R. C. COMMITTEE PLANNING FOR FUND CAMPAIGN

Quotas for the 17 districts and subdistricts into which Adams County has been divided for the forthcoming drive for $14,000 by the Adams County chapter of the Red Cross were discussed Wednesday evening at a meeting of the Fund Planning Committee headed by Edwin L. Minter of Biglerville.

Meeting in the Red Cross office on Baltimore St., the group advanced plans for the annual campaign for funds with which to operate the services performed by the local chapter during 1953 and to meet quotas set by national Red Cross.

The larger quota this year reflects new heavy demands being made upon the Red Cross to gather extra supplies of blood for use in the polio-control gamma globulin program, members of the committee explained. In addition to the extra funds, the Red Cross here has been called upon to step up its blood donor program.

Completing List of Leaders
Campaign Chairman Charles W.
Wolf told the group that he expects today to complete the appointments of district and sub-district chairmen. Only one position remained open at Wednesday's meeting. Assistant Campaign Chairman N. A.
Melgakes was prevented by illness from attending the meeting.

Mrs. Maxwell D. Bucklew,
the chapter's executive secretary, said

Korean Educator Will Show Movies At League Meeting

Mrs. Sang Myung Pai, who will be the speaker at the Calendar
Party to be held by the Woman's League of Gettysburg College in Christ Lutheran Church, February 3, at 2:30 o'clock, is a Korean educator and a Protestant church leader.

After receiving her education in schools in Korea and Japan, Mrs.
Pai became principal of the Private Girls' High School in Seoul.
She was one of a group of five teachers and educators sent to the United States to observe educational methods in this country. She had planned to return in June, 1950, but when the Communists invaded her country, she remained here, doing graduate work at Columbia University and the University of Chicago.

In addition to her educational work in Seoul, Mrs. Pai has been a member of the YWCA, a member of the Election Committee for Congressmen for the Korea capital, and a member of the American Association for the United Nations.

Reds Seize Husband
Mrs. Pai's husband was one of the many Koreans arrested by the Communists. She has not heard from him since. Her school buildings were destroyed in the war and the rebuilding of these structures will be her first project when she returns to her native land.

The Calendar Party provides that each member donate at least one penny for each year of her age.

Mrs. Pai will show a 16 mm sound movie in natural color, "A School Day in Korea." It will portray the customs and culture of the land, the musical talent of her school girls and a variety of other activities. Music provides the background.

During refreshments a skit will be presented by four members of the Delta Gamma Sorority.

YWCA ELECTORS HOLD ASSEMBLY ON ACTIVITIES

The Gettysburg YWCA has 390 members. Mrs. W. Raymond Sammel, president of the Board of Directors, reported, at a YWCA electors' assembly meeting held in the "Y" building Wednesday night. The meeting was arranged by the Membership Committee, of which Mrs.
William H. Pensyl is chairman, to acquaint members with the activities of the "Y."

Mrs. Sammel said that there are six Y-Teen Clubs meeting weekly, with Gettysburg College women students as advisors; that there is an organized group for every age from 12 years upward.

She listed the BeeP Club, composed of young business girls, and the program of the Business and Professional Women's Club was explained by Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler, vice president. Mrs. John Murray, president of the Annie Danner Club, invited the membership to attend the Lenten services to be conducted by this organization at the "Y"
every Tuesday night during Lent, beginning February 24.

List Interest Groups
Special interest groups are also planned for the membership. A six weeks' lecture course on the United Nations was given in the fall, with Dr. Basil Crapster, of the college faculty, lecturing. Members of this group finished the course by spending a weekend in New York attending meetings of the U.N. There are two painting classes being given this winter and a course in ballet dancing.

The BeeP Club, which has a number of brides in its membership, is having a home-making course. An average of 237 people use the "Y" building each day, and on an average Saturday, 350 to 400 use the facilities, Mrs. Sammel said. Figures from the books of Miss Rosea Armor, finance chairman, disclosed that it took $7,083.97 to operate the "Y" in the last year. Receipts were $7,408.66, which included $2,500 from the Community Chest and some special gifts.

The meeting was then divided into three "buzz" groups, led by Mrs.
Frank H. Kramer, Mrs. Robert Fortenbaugh and Mrs. Buehler, who were allowed eight minutes to discuss the five most essential factors that could make the "Y" a better association. These groups then combined and their findings were reported by Mrs. Kramer, Mrs. Pensyl and Mrs. E. J. Nowicki Jr. They again divided, listed three ways in which each individual could help toward achieving these goals and these in turn were reported to the entire group. The combined findings of the three groups will be referred to the Program Committee for study.

Hot chocolate, cookies and pretzels were served to the 27 women who attended the meeting. Miss Mary Farha, guest "Y" director from Lebanon, Turkey, was an observer.

Birthday For Eagles And Charter Member
The Gettysburg lodge of the Fraternity Order of Eagles observed its 46th anniversary today without special celebration but one of its five surviving charter members, niversary today. Mr. Gilbert attended ceremonies inaugurating the local lodge on his 27th birthday in 1907 in Xavier Hall.

The four other charter members living today are Harry C. Gilbert, Charles W. Myers (the oldest),
James B. Aumen and John W.
Brehm. Dr. H. M. Hartman, who died earlier this month, also was a charter member.

Mr. Gilbert will celebrate his birthday at the annual dinner of the Veterans Firemen's Association at the Eagles' home this evening.

It was incorrectly reported that an altercation between Theron Miller, Gettysburg R. D., and C. Arthur Brame Jr., which resulted in Miller being found guilty of assault and battery by a jury earlier this week, occurred on Brame's property. The altercation actually occurred on the property of John Starner, adjoining the Brame property, on which Brame's kennels are located. Brame saw Miller from an upstairs window in his home while Miller was on the Starner property and, after yelling at Miller, went to the spot where Miller was located to order him off the property. Miller is said to have struck Brame during the discussion at that spot.

The owner of one of the first television sets in the Emmitsburg area must pay the company from which he purchased the apparatus a balance due of $397.35, Associate Judge Patrick M. Schnauffer has decreed in a memorandum filed in Frederick Circuit Court.

The Matthews Company entered the suit against Lawrence Haley, to whom the plaintiff sold the TV set on October 8, 1948, for $427.

Haley contended he made repeated complaints about the performance of the set and at various times offered to return it. He claimed he purchased it principally to see the World Series of 1948 and was unable to even get a picture on that occasion. The company denied complaints were made by the defendant and contended nothing was said until an attempt was made to collect the balance due.

our farmers of today were once 4-H members," Mr. Hartman said. "Adams County had the first 4-H Baby Beef Club in the state, and it was from the club here that the state's Baby Beef Club program grew. We used to win numerous grand champions, but that might have been because there was less competition than there is now with several thousand taking part throughout the state."

California Is Visitor
Among guests introduced were Miss Margaret Eisenhower, a California home economics extension worker spending several days here to observe the extension work in the county, and the officers of the county 4-H council, President Al Lee, Breighner, Vice President James Benney, Secretary Melvane Nace, Treasurer Roy Weaver and Song Leaders Jay and Roger Crouse. Miss Nace presented a report on the activities of the 4-H council during the past year.

Miss Isabel Myers, State College, assistant State 4-H club leader, outlined the work of the 4-H club members, parents and leaders. Describing the early history of 4-H work she paid tribute to "a man who was one of your own countrymen, O. H. Benson, who was the one who developed our emblem, the four leaf clover, and who started the idea of having projects for young people way back in 1900. It was through his efforts and the efforts of other men like him that 4-H became established and became the great national organization that it is today."

Warriors Clash With Delone At McSherrystown On Friday; Boys, Girls In County Tilts

While a number of South Penn Basketball League teams will be idle Friday as they await the start of the second half of the season next Tuesday, such will not be the case for Gettysburg as the Warriors play a return game with Delone Catholic at McSherrystown.

Delone received a 51-29 lacing here on December 16 and hopes to atone for that reverse on Friday. Joe Bevenour, center, missed the local game due to an injury but will be in the lineup for the return game.

The Squires have been improving steadily under the guidance of Coach Johnny McMahon and turned in one of their best performances in winning at Westminster last week 59-38. That marked their fourth decision in 10 starts.

The Warrior reserves, who topped Delone here 36-21, will be after their seventh win in 12 games in the preliminary at 6:45.

Five other South Penn teams, Hanover, Shippensburg, Chambersburg, Carlisle and Waynesboro, will be idle Friday. In non-conference games Hershey tangles with Milton Hershey High, and Mechanicsburg plays at Steelton.

County League Games
Although the Adams County Scholastic League does not play a split season, what amount to the second half will get underway with games carded on Friday evening.

Boiling Springs, undefeated leader, clash with winless Fairfield on the latter's floor. Improving Littlestown (4-7) takes on second-place Biglerville, (9-4) for the season, at Littlestown.

Third-place East Berlin, last year's champions, who have a season mark of (4-8), will be host to fifth-place Newville. In the remaining game New Oxford (4-9) and tied with East Berlin for third place, will play at York Springs, (3-15) for the campaign.

Varsity girls' games will precede all boys' contests.
Gettysburg Junior High will be idle until next Tuesday when Carlisle will be met at Carlisle.

SAYS PRO LOOP BANNED 2 TILTS ON TELEVISION

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The government's anti-trust suit against the National Football League was bolstered by the testimony of a television company official yesterday that he was denied permission to televise two games of the Cleveland Browns.

The witness, Herbert S. Stewart, said NFL Commissioner Bert Bell denied permission to Erie, Pa., TV Station WICU to televise the games even though the station was outside the 75-mile home territory limit imposed by the league.

Stewart is now executive vice president and general manager of the Orange Broadcasting Co., Tampa, Fla., but was general manager of the Erie station until last July. In the suit, the government charges the pro league violated the Sherman Anti-trust Act in its TV policy, specifically by setting up home territories for its 12 member clubs and giving them exclusive radio-TV rights in those areas.

Denied Title Game
Stewart testified the two games were played while he was general manager of the Erie station. He said the games involved were between the Browns and the Philadelphia Eagles on Dec. 3, 1950 and the title game between the Browns and the Los Angeles Rams on Dec. 24 of that year.

Stewart said Bell told him that permission to televise the games was impossible because of the league's 75-mile home territory limit.

In the case of the championship game, Stewart said he pointed out to Bell that Erie is 90 miles from Cleveland, but he quoted Bell as replying the ban still held because Erie fans were going to the game in Cleveland by special train. Stewart said he checked later and found that a total of 25 Erie fans went to Cleveland for the game.

LITTLE LEAGUE MEETING DRAWS HUGE TURNOUT

If the turnout of prospective Little League Baseball players and their parents at a meeting Wednesday evening at Gettysburg High School is any criterion, the success of the formation of such a league for next summer is assured.

Ira Kerr, Recreation director, reported today there were 105 youngsters and approximately 40 parents present for the meeting.

The evening was spent in discussing the program to be held in connection with the league with questions and answers forming a large part of the program.

Next Tuesday evening Carl E. Stotz, Williamsport, originator and commissioner of Little League Baseball, will come here to meet with representatives of the sponsoring organizations of the local league.

The meeting will be held in the council room at the fire engine house and will be for sponsors only due to the limited seating capacity. Sponsors of the local league include the Rotary, Lions and Moose clubs and Glenn L. Bream.

Representatives from Littlestown, Chambersburg and Mt. Alto, where Little League ball has already been organized, will also attend.

HORNETS HAVE BIG LOOP LEAD

By The Associated Press
The Pittsburgh Hornets owned their widest first place margin in the American Hockey League race today. They owe it to their ability to whip the Cleveland Barons.

The Hornets defeated Cleveland, 3-1, last night at Pittsburgh to take a three point lead, with 50 points to the Barons' 47. Last Saturday, the last time the teams took the ice, Pittsburgh whipped Cleveland by the same score.

In the other league game played last night, the St. Louis Flyers downed the Buffalo Bisons, 3-1.

Pittsburgh tallied one goal in each period with Bob Sollinger, Andy Barbe and Bill Eznicke doing the damage. Glen Somner registered the lone Cleveland marker.

Johnny Bower, Cleveland goalie, was struck in the mouth by the puck late in the third period and was replaced by a standby goaltender, Roy Perras. Bower lost one tooth and had 12 stitches taken in his lip.

Gerry Ehman, moved up from a utility role, scored the key goal for St. Louis in its game with the Bisons. With the count tied, 1-1, and only 45 seconds left, Ehman rifled one past Buffalo goalie Jacques Plante. Lou Jankowski then sewed it up for the Flyers with a goal at 19:59.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Hunters in Pennsylvania would have to wear large red markings on their backs while pursuing their favorite sport if a Cumberland County senator has his way.

Sen. George N. Wade (R-Cumberland) introduced a bill Tuesday to require hunters to wear a tag at least a foot square as a safety measure against shots from other nimrods.

The bill carries a penalty provision calling for a $25 fine for violators.

Fred Saigh, Owner Of Cards, Gets 15 Months In Tax Case

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A meteoric, sometimes turbulent rise to baseball success appeared at an end today for Fred Saigh, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, who was sentenced to 15 months imprisonment and fined $15,000 for federal income tax evasion.

Pronouncement of the sentence came in Federal Court here yesterday as Saigh pleaded no defense in a five-count indictment returned against him last spring, and threw himself on the mercy of the court. The government at the same time agreed to withdraw three of the five counts against the short, dapper 48-year-old Saigh.

Means Sale Of Cardinals
A few hours later Federal Judge Roy W. Harper sentenced him to 15 months in prison on each count, the sentence to run concurrently. He also fined him $10,000 on one count and $5,000 on the second.

Maximum penalty on each count is up to five years imprisonment or a maximum fine of $10,000 or both.

Saigh, who had broken into tears when informed of the indictment last spring, had to control his voice as he rose to address the court.

"This means, of course, I will have to dispose of the Cardinals," he said. "There is no way I can stay in baseball."

Free On Bail
Saigh, himself a lawyer, commented he had seen men receive lesser sentences for income tax evasion.

By his own statement Saigh is bound in baseball. Free on $2,000 bond, he has until May 4, when the sentence will be enacted, to clear up business matters.

KEN DEARDORFF BECOMING STAR FOR FURMAN 5

One of the reasons Furman University's basketball team has a current winning streak of seven straight and is heading toward a position in the Southern Conference tournament is because of the sensational play of Kenny Deardorff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Deardorff, Steinhewer Ave.

The former Gettysburg High and South Penn ace transferred last year to Furman from York Junior College. He promptly forged into the Paladins' starting lineup but got off to a slow start. He began to click after pouring through 21 points against Manhattan in Madison Square Garden and since that time has been one of the mainstays of the southern team.

At present Deardorff is averaging about 14 points per game and Coach Lyles Alley is expecting continued improvement from the local set-shot artist. In addition to his great scoring potential Deardorff has developed into one of the finest defensive men on the squad. Coach Alley regularly places him against the opponents' scoring ace.

Following a midyear layoff due to examinations, Furman will resume its schedule next week with 11 games remaining on the program.

IMPENDING SALE OF CARDS STIRS BASEBALL

NEW YORK (AP)—What had promised to be a quiet meeting of baseball officials this week ended in New York now figures to be a turbulent affair with the possible sale of the St. Louis Cardinals high on the agenda of the National League owners.

There is nothing in the books that say Fred Saigh, convicted in St. Louis yesterday of federal tax evasion, must sell the club. But the little Cardinals' president said after being sentenced to 15 months in prison and fined $15,000: "I will have to dispose of the Cardinals. There is no way I can stay in baseball."

Two Possible Steps
Baseball officials for the most part, including Commissioner Ford Frick and League President Warren Giles, declined to comment on the conviction. A source high in the sport, however, pointed out there are two possible steps that can be taken:

1. The commissioner can invoke the rule that gives him power to bar anybody from baseball on the grounds detrimental to baseball.

2. The National League executives can use a clause in their constitution to keep a person from owning a club.

Report Texas Inquiries
The same high baseball authority said a Houston, Tex., group had made inquiries about buying the Cardinals. The Texas group was understood to have asked whether it should try to negotiate a deal directly with Saigh or talk business with the National League.

Saigh, in St. Louis, flatly stated he had made no plans as yet to dispose of his stock. He also said there are no deals pending.

While most of the available baseball officials were reserving comment, owner Phil Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs pointed out the late K. M. Landis "ran a lot of men out of baseball for a lot less."

He also said he didn't see how Saigh could do anything else than get out of baseball as the result of the action.

Two Schools Outgrow Class D Competition
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Arnold and Glassport High School basketball teams have been ruled out of Class D WPIAL competition in the title tournament.

The league's decision committee advanced both Allegheny County teams to Class A status yesterday because their enrollment figures are above 500.

Both schools, undefeated in WPIAL competition this season, can compete in Class A title play if they continue to lead their respective sections.

Glassport is leading Section 16 with a 8-0 record, while Arnold leads Section 13 with a 6-0 record. Other schools advanced to Class A competition are West Deer in Section 13 and Wilmerding and Elizabeth in Section 16.

DECISION ON INTERSTATE NEXT MONDAY

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—The next in a series of meetings "to settle for once and for all" the future of the Interstate Baseball League is set for York on Monday.

Yesterday's session here, the third in as many months, was adjourned without any final action pending disposition of a vital sixth franchise.

The president of the Class B circuit, Gerald P. Nugent, told club officials, "We definitely have to have six teams to operate."

Count On Five
As it stands the league can count on five entries although their strength is an unknown factor.

Lancaster, York, and Sunbury, Pa., and Hagerstown and Salisbury, Md., interests all expressed willingness to go ahead with plans for this summer.

However, only Lancaster, York and Hagerstown have definite working agreements with major league affiliates.

Discussion of a proposed 140-game schedule drawn up on a six-team basis was postponed until Monday.

Two definite changes have taken place since the end of the 1952 season. Harrisburg, Pa., has returned its franchise to the league after encountering financial difficulties, and the Wilmington, Del., franchise was bought by a Hazleton group headed by Eddie Kirschner.

Leading Prospects
The Allentown club was reported in a precarious position following the withdrawal of the St. Louis Cardinals from an owner-operator setup there.

However, Kirschner, who did not attend yesterday's meeting, has made it known he would be willing to shift his franchise to Allentown if he can arrange to rent the Cardinals' playing field there.

Club representatives were told that Hazleton and Johnstown, Pa., are the leading prospects for the sixth spot in the league. Cambridge

'Sprig' Gardner, Who Has Made Brilliant Mat Coaching Mark, To Be Honored; GHS Graduate

Frank D. "Sprig" Gardner, a native of Adams County, who has become widely known as one of the leading scholastic wrestling coaches due to his phenomenal success at Wellington C. Mephram High School, Bellmore, Long Island, will be honored at a celebration Friday evening at the South Shore Terrace, Long Island.

Approximately 20 college and university wrestling coaches, in addition to more than 75 Mephram lettermen, will join to honor the coach and his present undefeated squad.

Among the coaches planning to attend are: Jack Shainline of Gettysburg College; Ridge Riley and Charley Speidel, Penn State; Gerry Leeman, Lehigh, and Richard Waite, Columbia.

Starred At GHS
Gardner was born in York Springs, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Gardner. He moved to Gettysburg with his parents when a youngster and graduated from Gettysburg High School in 1925. While a student at the high school he was very active in athletics, playing center on the football team, guard on the basketball team and an outfield position on the baseball team.

Following his graduation here he attended Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, where he graduated four years later. While there he became interested in wrestling but never participated in the sport.

His record as a mat coach at Mephram High School is probably unparalleled in the nation. To date his teams have wrestled in a total of 201 matches, winning 198, losing one while two ended in ties.

Titlists Each Year
His teams have won the South Shore Athletic League title and the Long Island championship for 15 consecutive years.

The Pirates, as the Mephram grapplers are known, have a current winning streak of 98 straight. They faced Garden City at home Tuesday night and Baldwin at home Friday, just prior to the celebration.

PATTERSON IS FUTURE HEAVY TITLE ASPIRANT

CHICAGO (AP)—At the rate he is putting pounds on his shoulders and thighs and experience under his belt, Floyd Patterson figures he will be a heavyweight title contender in about two years.

Patterson proved conclusively last night in Chicago Stadium that he is one of the brighter young stars in the boxing business.

The determined, 19-year-old Negro from Brooklyn smashed Chicago's Chestre Mieszala for a fifth round TKO in their scheduled six rounder.

5th Fight, 5th KO
It was Patterson's fifth fight as a pro and his fifth knockout. He turned professional after winning the Olympic middleweight championship last year at Helsinki.

The bout was viewed on television nationally, as was another six rounder in which Billy Noble, 186, Grand Island, Neb., displayed a crashing left in defeating Larry Watson, 181, Omaha.

Television two preliminaries rather than the main event was an experiment by the International Boxing Club. The IBC said it was to introduce new talent to the public.

Only 2,285 There
Only 2,285 fans showed up at ring-side and contributed to a gate of $3,795. The four fighters who appeared on video received $1,000 each.

The 10-round main event, not televised, ended with sharp, little Orlando Zuheta, Cuba lightweight champion, scoring a fifth round TKO over Chicago's Luther Rawlings.

2 DEFENDING CAGE CHAMPS STAY IN RACE

By DICK HOENIG
HARRISBURG (AP)—Last year's high school basketball conference champions are having little success in earning top ratings for the first half of the 1952-53 campaign.

Only two defending titlists were able to cop first round honors in eight Class A circuits which have completed the initial part of split season schedules.

Coatesville, the state Class A runner-up to Farrell last year, beat off some tough Ches-Mont League opposition to retain its first place rating and Ashland swept through nine North Schuylkill opponents with only one loss to hold its No. 1 spot.

League champions last year unseated during the first half of this season include Bethlehem of the East Penn, Danville of the Susquehanna, Reading of the Central Penn, Hanover of the South Penn, Mahanoy City of the Black Diamond and Swoyersville of the North League.

Still Have Chance
They still have a chance to repeat as league champs, however, since most loops match the first round winner against the second half winner to determine who represents the league in the State PIAA playoffs.

Three more defending champs, Old Forge, Meadville, and Hollidaysburg, have a chance to earn first half honors tomorrow.

Leading the state-wide race to qualify for those playoffs which begin in March are two fives that failed to win district flags last season.

Coal Township of District 4, chalked up victory No. 17 Monday, at the expense of St. Edwards of Shamokin, for the state's best Class A record. The Purple Demons encounter defending district champion Williamsport, Friday.

Coal has taken the measure of Williamsport once already this season.

Has 15 Victories
Johnstown of District 6, also victor over the defending district champion, Westmont, now has 15 triumphs in a row. The Trojans visit Altoona Friday, a team they defeated by a single point earlier.

State champion Farrell (14-2) fell into second place in Section 3 of the WPIAL by losing their second straight game, to New Castle (11-3) Tuesday. It was the second defeat in 46 contests for the Steelers who face Ellwood City tomorrow.

One first half race, in the Lehigh Valley League, ended in a three-way tie with Emmaus, Whitehall and Palmerton carding identical 5-2 records. Emmaus plays Whitehall tonight and the winner meets Palmerton Saturday to decide the first round champ.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Pinochle Contest Begins Wednesday. The Gettysburg Pinochle club and the Molly Pitcher club of Carlisle will begin a series of pinochle matches next Wednesday evening. The first match will be played in Gettysburg. There will be dinner at the Hotel Gettysburg for 16 contestants at 6:30 o'clock, after which play will take place at the residence of Herbert L. Grimm, 251 Springs Avenue.

Henry T. Bream is captain of the Gettysburg team. In the absence of Captain Bream Wednesday evening on a basketball trip, George Bender will be acting captain and Carl J. Peduzzi or Henry M. Scharf will substitute in his playing position.

Shields-Fox Nuptials: Miss Eleanor Alice Shields, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William I. Shields, Water street, and Robert E. Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Fox, Round Top, were married Friday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock at the parsonage of St. James Lutheran Church by the Rev. Dr. Earl J. Bowman.

After the ceremony, a wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's parents for the immediate families.

For more than a year the bride has been employed at the Murphy store. Mr. Fox is employed at the Reaser furniture factory.

The couple will reside at 106 Carlisle street.

Here and There: Eggs have reached a new low in the Adams county markets, only 13 cents a dozen being paid for them by dealers, while the retail price has been 14 to 16 cents the last several days.

Several reasons for the downward trend of prices are given by farmers. Depression has something to do with it. But, after all, the price is still largely regulated, no doubt, by supply and demand and the supply has been increased due to the mild weather of the last few weeks.

The new American store, with its meat department, recently opened in the Masonic building, is just one of 200 new stores opened by the American Stores company during the past year.

Retail prices of food handled by the stores company dropped from 14 to 17 per cent during the last year over the preceding year, one of the officials of the company states.

The Gettysburg National Bank, which this year observe its one hundred and nineteenth birthday, is one of the oldest banks in the United States.

It is also a significant fact that the family which started it is still active in public affairs in Adams county. It was originally a state bank and located in the "parlor" of the McPherson residence on center square, on the site of what is now known as the Scharf building and occupied by the United Telephone company offices. Ancestors of Judge Donald P. McPherson were its first executive officers. It became a national bank as soon as the federal banking law was promulgated.

United Front Is Advocated for Fine C. C. Gettysburgians were urged to take an active interest in the local Chamber of Commerce, to devote their time and efforts toward the fulfillment of a Chamber program and to work in close harmony and unity for the betterment and improvement of the community as a whole, by the Rev. Dr. Allen Stockdale, pastor of the Congregational church, at Washington, D. C., at the "All Gettysburg" dinner in the Hotel Gettysburg Tuesday night.

Today's Talk

ALL NATURE'S KNOWLEDGE

The one forever open book, from which thousands of other books are composed and written, is the Book of Nature. Wherever the eye rests there is something to be recorded in the mind of man. Already, over the centuries, books have been written revealing to the un-learned the secrets, mysteries and wonders that this book of nature reveals.

Endless are the lessons to be learned by careful observation. The chemist, the engineer, the artist, the writer, the scientist, all go to this open book for the knowledge they most desire. Many a lesson of life is there illustrated in the bold silence. Even among the animals and birds there are to be learned lessons of self-reliance, patience, and rare courage.

How interesting the reach of each limb of a tree, as it winds, turns, and eddies its way upward that it may gain the fullest nourishment of health from every golden ray of sunshine! How full of courage every inhabitant of nature. Every turn of fortune taken in its stride. I am wondering about the thoughts that are going on in the tiny brains of the birds outside my window, as they hunt for food, or sit perched in the snow-laden branches of the trees and shrubs. What do their chirps say and mean?

There is a throb of life in every buried seed, in all growing things, indeed in every composition of earth. There is movement, even though silent. Miracles are forever forming. Why was the grass created green? Why wasn't it blue, red, or purple? Reasons populate all the knowledge that this open book of nature exhibits. What a Book!

No wonder Nature so stirs the soul of the poet. He matches soul with soul. When any of us become akin to Nature how satisfied we become. What spiritual nourishment we gain, even when most alone. Nature elevates. Nature is a dictionary of immortal terms. There are co-operative forces ever at work in this outdoor world of ours. There is no idleness. Oh, what a book from which to study and learn! It's God's ever-open book. And no price is put upon it. It's free to all.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "My Books" Protected, 1953, George Matthews Adams Service

WARNING AGAINST FLATTERY
My son, beware the flattering word

However pleasing when it's heard. Be grateful, but don't trust too far The man who tells how good you are.

Remember to keep small your hat. No man can be as good as that.

Beware of him who calls to say A compliment he comes to pay. Watch him, and hear him if you must. But never in his praises trust. Remember, though 'tis this he'll state. You're not the greatest of the great.

As fish are taken from the brook Praise oft can be a baited hook. Some men have learned at their expense The drug of flattery dulls the sense. Praise is an opiate managed well. By strangers having things to sell. Copyright, 1953, Edgar A. Guest

SOVIET NOOSE DRAWN TIGHTER ON SATELLITES

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
The Associated Press

The Red satellite countries of Eastern Europe paid a staggering bill in 1952 for their "liberation" by the Soviet Union.

At the same time their Communist parties, stunned by violent purges and pruned to a hard core of Stalinists, came into a new and dubious distinction from Stalin himself. They were dubbed "the new shock brigade of world communism."

It was a bad year for Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Hungary, Albania, Bulgaria and East Germany. Perhaps, for the people, it was the worst year since the end of the war.

Repressive Measures

All these countries suffered these things in common:

1. Their economies were manipulated under the Molotov Plan—the so-called Council for Mutual Economic Aid — to permit cruel exploitation by the Russians. Everything was sacrificed for the advancement of heavy industry to feed the hungry Soviet machine. Multilateral trade agreements within the Soviet orbit were arranged for the benefit of Moscow in a sort of economic nutcracker which pushed living standards still lower.

2. Their agriculture was further sovietized. Collectivization was pushed. Resisting farmers were dealt with severely.

3. Sudden money reforms brought chaos in towns and villages as the satellite governments cut deeply into the population's purchasing power. Prices grew more and more beyond the average consumer's reach.

4. "Mobilization for defense" became the Communist slogan under which youth was being rapidly militarized and women were pressed into all sorts of heavy work. The armed forces were sovietized and their equipment synchronized with that of the Soviet Union. Soviet generals and admirals took over the satellite military.

Religions Suppressed

5. The Soviet Union's own cultural purge to blot out anything which failed to reflect properly the glory of Great Russia was extended to the satellites in a vicious hunt for such "enemies" as cosmopolitans and "bourgeois nationalists" (any who denied the supremacy of Russia). Anti-Semitism, under the cloak of anti-Zionism, forged to the fore. Other religions were suppressed and only "patriotic priests" and the like—except possibly in predominantly Catholic Poland—could follow their ministries.

6. The spy hunt reached a new peak of fury. Spy trials, with the victims invariably labelled Yugoslav Titoists, American imperialists or Zionists agents, were virtually daily occurrences.

Moscow's picked gauleiters were in control everywhere.

In Czechoslovakia, a violent Communist party purge, which shook the organization to its roots, grew out of the country's economic troubles as a vassal state of Moscow. The trial of Rudolph Slansky, Vlado Clementis and other former top Communist leaders, with the strong tones of anti-Semitism, obviously was, the outgrowth of a search for scapegoats for a situation caused by the pressure of Moscow demands for Czechoslovak goods as opposed to the lack of raw materials to achieve that production.

Living Standards Sag

Many thousands of Communists were expelled from the party, many hundreds arrested. Communist leaders, in the style which has become custom, paraded before courts with fantastic confessions after a sharp struggle for power in which President Klement Gottwald emerged victorious, temporarily, at least.

While the living standard of the public sagged, economic failures were blamed on sabotage in farm and factory. New decrees tied workers to their jobs to combat a growing labor shortage. Production slumped. Consumer goods became scarce. Farmers, hoarding produce to feed to cattle rather than deliver it to the state, caused shortages of bread grains and other foods.

Poland became a Soviet republic in all but name under a constitution which was a carbon copy of the Soviet one. Boleslaw Beirut, who has been president, became premier and chief Moscow gauleiter. The Polish army, already under the command of a Soviet marshal, came even more under Russian control. The Polish United Workers (Communist) Party still awaited the big purge trial of "deviationists" who in any way resisted Russian exploitation.

Resistance Smolders

Poland suffered more indignities in the field of economics. Production of many items, such as steel, coal, pig iron, rolling stock and others, fell off while the USSR demanded more. In the farms, collectivization was stepped up despite resistance, but it still went slower than in other satellites, largely because of smoldering resistance.

In the cities, prices grew out of range of the consumer. The average Polish worker earned 500 zlotys a month. Only a tiny percentage topped 700. But a suit cost up to 2,000 zlotys; a woman's dress, up to 400; a pair of nylons, if it could be found, 120; a pair of lady's shoes, 600, and so on. Stakhanovite (speedup) work on the Soviet model became compulsory in Hungary by government decree. A drive to "eliminate all capitalistic thinking" extended from factory to farm.

MOVE TO STOP COUNTY PROBE OF WESTERN PEN

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Allegheny County officials have court permission to investigate Western State penitentiary but the state will try to block the probe by appealing to a higher court.

Dist. Atty. James F. Malone was given a green light yesterday by Judge Sera M. Soffel of the Allegheny County Criminal Court. But Robert Woodside, Pennsylvania's attorney-general, said he will appeal that decision to the State's Supreme Court in a day or two.

Judge Soffel ruled Malone "not only has the right but the duty to investigate" conditions at the pris which was swept by a 24-hour riot Jan. 18. The penitentiary also was the scene of a mass escape of eight prisoners in November.

Gov. John S. Fine has appointed a five-man committee to study penal institutions in the state. The committee is to meet with the governor in Harrisburg Monday.

Judge Soffel said the fact that a state committee has been named to investigate penal conditions is no hindrance to a local grand jury looking into the situation.

27 REDS KILLED IN TANK RAID

SEOUL (AP)—Tank-led Allied raiders hit a Chinese position southwest of the Panmunjom truce conference site today and killed an estimated 27 Reds with bullets, grenades and flame throwers.

An Eighth Army spokesman said hit-and-run raiders struck in sub-zero weather at daybreak, after Allied warplanes and artillery blasted the hill and its 30 to 40 defenders.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force reported 50 fighter-bombers pounded a sprawling troop-billeting area north of Sinchon, near the West Coast. Pilots said they destroyed 55 buildings and damaged eight. Farther north eight U. S. Sabre jets and five MIGs tangled in two dogfights. The Air Force made no damage claims.

B29 Superforts bombed two Communist storage centers near the Pyongyang during the night.

HOW OLD IS A HOUSE?
"It's said the prehistoric Hopi Indians of Arizona were compelled to paint the walls of their pueblos every four years. Scientists estimate the ages of these early American houses by counting the layers of paint.

DOES THE SHOE FIT?
Even if they're the prettiest shoes you've ever owned, don't wear them if they're too small. They'll only take a heavy toll of foot aches and frayed nerves.

HONOR MAN WHO DIED TRYING TO RESCUE WOMAN

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The father of four who died in a futile effort to save an elderly woman from burning to death was one of three Pennsylvanians given recognition by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission.

He was Charles T. Walker Sr., of nearby Coraopolis, whose widow was awarded a bronze medal and a $960 a year pension yesterday.

The other Pennsylvanians, who were among 17 persons from eight states cited by the hero commission are Nazareth A. Tomasetti, 42, of Pittston, and Melvin MacGill, 16, of Renova.

CLAMP BAN ON NEGRO'S STORY OF SEX SLAYING

WESTPORT, Conn. (AP)—What William Davis, 29-year-old Negro ex-convict handyman, has told Connecticut authorities about the alleged assault slaying of attractive Mrs. Senada (Penny) Coates Evans here last Monday night wasn't available for publication today.

State Atty. Lorin W. Willis has cloaked the investigation with official secrecy, ordering his investigators not to talk. This became known last night as investigators prepared to question Davis after he was brought back from Newark, N. J., where he had been captured earlier in the day.

Police spokesman at Newark quoted Davis as admitting he had slain the 30-year-old former actress and socialite, during a quarrel over payment for work he had done for her at her newly-occupied Woodside Ave. home.

They also said Davis denied having attacked Mrs. Evans. Newsmen were unable to learn Tomasetti leaped into the hole and began digging frantically. An hour and a half later both were drawn safely to the surface. Shannon was unconscious.

MacGill jumped into the West Branch of the Susquehanna River at Renova last June 6 and saved 12-year-old John W. Lane from drowning. Lane was drifting helplessly in a strong current.

The commission awards bronze, silver and gold medals, depending on the nature of the deeds. All 17 medals awarded this time were bronze. In addition to the pension given Walker's widow, a total of $6,750 was awarded for educational and other purposes.

Camera News

By IRVING DESFOR
The Associated Press

From the many levels of photographic careers, a new, higher status has evolved in the field of journalism in the past few years. It has been dignified by literary recognition and a new name — photojournalist — in a book by Wilson Hicks, former executive editor of Life magazine. Aptly named "Words and Pictures" it gives his theories about the problems and accomplishments of editors, writers and photographers in the picture magazine field.

Hicks is an able editor who has worked with photographers these past 25 years. Coming from the Kansas City Star, he headed the feature and photo departments of The Associated Press before joining Life's upper echelon in its formative years. Here, at last, was a publication in which the photographic medium was given important equal to the written word. As Life prospered and assumed a position of great influence in the world press, the new species of photojournalist came into sharper focus. Now Hicks holds him up for our close inspection, scrutinizes his past and prophesies his further improvement for the future.

Answers Not In
I must confess I found it took serious concentration to hurdle some of Hicks' writing. His style is that of a literary treatise on "what is photojournalism?" and he admits the answers are not all in yet.

I perked up, however, when the author takes us into the managing editor's private sanctum to view Life's process of laying out a picture story from a heap of pictures and stray notes. I was amazed to discover that putting a typical lead picture story into final form sometimes takes the combined collaboration of fourteen or fifteen people. Around newspapers on comparable jobs you will find two, maybe three people in conference.

There are many distinctions which differentiate a photojournalist from the routine, even top professional photographers. In most cases of great news pictures, Hicks feels, it is the event which is great, seldom the photograph.

Picture Differences
"The picture, when only the camera sees the scene or event," he says, "may be expected to be superficial. When the photographer sees it, and sees it well, it has a chance to be penetrating."

It's the difference between just "taking" a picture and "making" a picture.

The book is well illustrated with significant pictures and imparts many inspirational quotes from today's leading photojournalists.

Littlestown

TOWN COUNCIL'S
1953 BUDGET

The Littlestown Borough Council Tuesday night adopted tentatively a 1953 budget showing estimated revenues for the year of $42,149.83 and expenditures for general government, fire and police protection, health and sanitation, highways, parks and miscellaneous expenses of $27,419.90.

No change was indicated in the tax rate when the budget is finally adopted at the February meeting.

Both the estimated receipts and estimated expenditures are lower than for 1952, according to the budget figures. Revenue for 1952 was estimated at $45,769.57, and expenditures at $28,881.36, leaving an unappropriated balance of $16,888.21. The new budget estimates an unexpended balance at the end of 1953 of $14,729.93.

Give Police Chief Raise

Cash on hand at the beginning of 1952 was $13,953.82, and on December 31, 1952, $7,583.42, according to the report of the auditors, Wilbur A. Bankert, Warren C. Harner and Harry O. Harner.

The budget committee reported that in the 1952 budget the general borough fund balance exceeded the anticipated balance by $4,213.21, due largely to good tax collections and unanticipated revenues. Expenditures in 1952, however, exceeded the estimate by $1,572.91.

The salary of Chief of Police Melvin Swab was increased, after discussion of the proposed budget, to $3,600 a year, including $600 allowance to the chief for use of his automobile. In addition the chief will be allowed $600 annually for clothing. Chief Swab informed council that he was unable to operate his car as he has been doing for the $400 allowance given him in 1952.

Myers Asks Raise

Luther G. Myers, operator of the sewage disposal plant, also appeared before council and requested an increase in salary of $200 a year. After discussion, it was agreed that Mr. Myers service the parking meters with his other work as disposal plant operator, water pumpman and other duties at an annual salary of $3,100 a year, which will include car allowance. Mr. Myers agreed to accept this salary for one year but would not commit himself beyond that time.

Estimated receipts in the new budget were placed at $12,653.66 from tax on real estate and $1,508.71 in occupation taxes, a total tax levy of $14,162.37. An estimate of collections on taxes of previous years was placed at $250. Miscellaneous receipts were estimated at $10,849.25. Total estimated receipts and cash were shown as $42,149.83.

Expenditures were listed as follows: General government, administration, $3,185; tax collection, $700; borough buildings, $960; total, $4,845; police, $5,245; capital outlay for parking meters, $750; fire, $1,945; Board of Health, for ambulance driver, $200; ash and rubbish collection, $100; highways, $11,259; street lights, $2,500; recreation, parks and playgrounds, $250; miscellaneous and other expenses, $325; total estimated expenditures, $27,419.90.

Figures On Other Funds

The sinking fund had $4,646.95 cash in bank at the beginning of 1952 and $5,003.95 at the beginning of 1953. The balance estimated at the end of 1953 is $5,146.42, after retirement of $2,500 of bonds and payment of $240 interest.

Total estimated receipts and cash in the water fund are shown as $27,143.42, and expenditures for 1953 as $17,140, leaving an operating surplus of $10,003.42.

Estimated sewer rentals are figured at $24,000; revenue from other sources at $315.88, a total of $24,315.88, which with an estimated cash balance makes total estimated receipts and cash of $76,056.53.

Estimated Sewer Costs

Estimated expenditures of the sewage fund are: Sewage disposal, $6,475; administrative expenses, $2,475; total operation and maintenance, $8,950; capital outlay, $2,000; payment to Littlestown borough authority, $9,575; total estimated expenses, $20,525; operating surplus, $55,531.53.

The highway fund shows total estimated receipts and balance of $1,990.84. A sum of $1,990.84 is included in the budget for repair and maintenance of streets, but no amount for construction or rebuilding.

The council meeting was held in the office of the secretary, Roger Keefe, with the following present: President Roscoe W. Ritts, Councilmen Lewis H. Fox, Vernon C. Reaver, Charles M. Prock, Harry T. Harner and James V. Yingling; Burgess Herbert J. Motter, Chief of Police Swab, Treasurer John H. Flickinger, Secretary Keefe, Borough Solicitor Daniel E. Teeter and Luther G. Myers, disposal plant operator.

Change Parking Rule

Councilman Prock, chairman of the street committee, reported conditions in the first alley east of N. Queen St., running from Newark St. to the proposed Windsor St., and informed council that some repairs were made to eliminate the surface condition. However, he said, one or two loads of stone will be needed to improve the alley and he was instructed to have the street commissioner place the stone. Another alley, located in the rear of the Littlestown Junior-Senior High School, is in need of additional stone, he said. It was approved to have the stone placed.

The parking of vehicles on the north side of Charles St. was brought to the attention of council by Councilman Fox. It was pointed out that due to approximately seven motor freight tractor-trailers and other transportation vehicles using the street during the day to either pick up or deliver freight, considerable trouble was encountered by vehicles trying to pass one another. It was decided that parking on the north side of Charles St. from South Queen St. to the end of Charles St. be prohibited and the parking ordinance be amended accordingly and signs erected.

Burgess Motter reported that he had completed pointing the brick on the Alpha Fire Co. building.

Two building permits were granted during the month to J. Kenneth Zeigler, Littlestown R. 2, to remove the marquee from the front of the three-story brick building, formerly occupied by the Regent Theater, for the Littlestown Home Association VFW, 9 West King St. and Irvin J. Null, Littlestown R. 2, for general repairs and erecting fence along front of yard at 332 East King St.

Seek Annexation

A petition for annexation of a part of Germany Twp. to the Borough of Littlestown was received from Cloy I. Crouse and Nevaeh A. Crouse, as I. H. Crouse and Sons. Neither of the petitioners was present for questioning relative to the costs of the various utility services, and it was agreed that, before any action be taken, the questions be presented to the Authority Board at a joint meeting.

Councilman Fox, chairman of the light committee, said he has received complaints relative to the poor lighting of the streets and that he had contacted a representative of the Metropolitan Edison Co. Disappointment was expressed in the lighting effects of the new type ornamental lights recently erected on Prince St. It was pointed out that for the 2500 lumen lamps used in that type light, it gives a spot light effect on the street and that the old type lamp with 1000 lumen covered a broader area and produced much more light over a wider area.

Water permits were issued to the following: Harvey R. Martin, Littlestown R. 1; Lester W. Warner, 103 Charles St.; Harry L. Cratin, 409 Prince St.; Elsie M. Study, Washington, D. C., for premises at 76 N. Queen St.; Reid C. Eppelman, 106 W. King St.; Wilbur D. Fair, 25-W. Myrtle St.

The auditors report and the annual statement of the Littlestown borough for the fiscal year 1952 were presented and accepted.

A general discussion was held on increasing the fees for plumbers. At the December meeting, council requested legal advice from Solicitor Teeter on increasing fees for non-resident plumbers from $10 to $50. Mr. Teeter said if the difference between the resident and non-resident charge was excessive, it could be set aside in court. It was decided that all non-resident plumbers be charged a fee of $25 per year or fraction thereof and resident plumbers be charged $10. The solicitor was authorized to draft an amendment to the ordinance.

Chief of Police Swab presented the following report of police activities from December 15, 1952, to January 15: Motor code violations, 25; parking violations, 27; one accident; investigation, two criminal arrests, five special police investigations (three robberies solved), nine civil service investigations, one industrial school investigation, two court cases, three payroll escorts, three funeral escorts, one food permit collected. Meter collections from Dec. 15 to Jan. 15, $608.53. Daily school patrols conducted on all school days.

Bills for the month ordered paid totaled $1,573.02 for the borough fund; total water fund expenditures, $282.72; total sanitary sewer fund expenditures, $573.01; grand total for January, $2,428.74. Treasurer John H. Flickinger reported that the receipts since the last meeting amount to $13,115.04.

TIMELY TASKS FOR JANUARY

Start 1953 with the resolution to keep books—all expenses and receipts of farm, orchard, garden. It's simply good business.

Shake heavy snows from burdened evergreens to prevent malformation.

Continue to feed friendly birds—grain, fruit parings, and occasionally a relished piece of suet or half a coconut wired to a tree limb. Shelled and crushed peanuts, too, are excellent additions as sources of winter proteins.

Have a coldframe ready for use within the next two or three weeks. Investigate the costs and merits of an electrically heated hotbed where adequate supplies of horse manure are not available.

Do not delay longer to write nurseries and seed companies for free catalogues. To obtain names and addresses of concerns that offer catalogues, buy a current copy of any of the leading farm and house magazines.

Continue to keep the Christmas poinsettia watered as needed and protected from cold drafts and dry air. After leaves turn yellow and begin to drop, give the plant a rest in a dark basement or cellar until late April.

Start a small brood of day-old chicks to raise broilers for the Easter trade and layers for early summer. January-started chicks utilize brooder house and equipment that is otherwise standing idle.

More than $100 worth of grain feed is required to heat winter drinking water for livestock which could be accomplished with $15 worth of coal. In other words, heat drinking water before the animals drink it.

Do not postpone ordering fertilizer. Even if you plan to buy it directly from your local dealer, tell him now your approximate requirements. Railroads may be crowded in March and April and you may find supplies scarce and hard to obtain.

Dormant sprays to control scale pests and; each leaf curl may be applied any time in January when the temperature is well above freezing levels.

Order grape vines, raspberry and other bramble fruit stock, fruit trees, and other deciduous plants in January for early March delivery. Plant as soon after March 1 as soil and weather conditions permit. Early orders are filled with best grade stock.

January is the proper time to join with neighbors to buy a power sprayer for potato, shade tree, orchard and other related spraying work. Several neighbors together may buy equipment for superior and more economical to operate than one person can afford by himself. Here is an efficient and money-saving solution of the shade tree and orchard spraying problem.

Inspect lilacs, viburnums and other woody shrubs for scales and kill off the pests in late January with a miscible oil or lime-sulphur spray applied on a mild day.

Prune grape vines on a warm day in late January. Also, complete orchard pruning before dormant sprays are applied.

Sow petunia seed in a window box or warm coldframe or hotbed before the last of January and later shift the tiny plants to individual pots in a coldframe. These provide early blooms in porch and window boxes, also for sale.

Plant or move shade trees whenever the soil can be handled.

NOTES ON GROWING

WISTARIAS

By failure to observe a few simple but important rules of culture in starting wistarias, many persons have encountered much trouble in attempts to grow this beautiful vine. Unfortunately a scattering of such failures here and there has gained for this plant the unfavorable reputation that it difficult to grow—a reputation wholly undeserved. What are these mistakes? What are the chief keys to success with this unusually attractive ornamental?

Perhaps the first error which beginners with wistarias usually make is in choosing "cheap" plants. Seedlings do not cost much and grow vigorously, but few of them ever produce blooms. In all cases a grafted plant, obtained from a reputable nursery, should be planted.

Therefore, the first rule aiming toward success with wistarias is this: Buy grafted plants.

Wistarias produce but few roots but these delve deeply and range far to obtain moisture and sustenance for the extensively spreading vine. To attempt to grow this plant in a hard or shallow soil is to invite failure from the start. Rule No. 2 is: Provide a fertile, deeply mellowed loam at least three feet deep to insure a low water level around the year as well as plenty of nourishment.

Many successful growers work rich loam and rotted manure or old compost to a depth of five feet for wistarias. Do not however create an undrainable "pocket" in preparing the site.

Wistarias resist exposure to prevailing winter winds. A southern or eastern exposure, preferably south-eastern, is near the ideal location for them. Porches and trellises facing toward the sun and sheltered from cold, drying winds usually bring the most flowers and more vigorous vines. The third rule is: Choose a sheltered site facing toward the south or southeast.

Grafted plants should be ordered in January for delivery around or slightly after the middle of March. Many experienced growers advise planting as early in March as soil can be made ready. If planting is delayed after plants are received, heel them in to protect the roots from loss of moisture by exposure to sun and wind.

Pruning is an individual vine operation, depending on the plant's location and vigor. The newly set plant should be cut back fairly close. Thereafter pruning should not be done except to pinch back terminal shoots when one or more gets too long for the location. It is a well known fact that the wistaria is stubborn and likes to be left alone, going where it wants to. It may prove wise to allow the vine to ramble where it chooses because it will likely do that anyway and attempts to train or restrict it may result in bloom failure. Observation often reveals that the old gnarled specimens which bloom most liberally are those which have been given liberty to scramble at will around a porch, cornice or wall.

Growers may propagate additional plants by layering one or more of the lower laterals pegging them firmly and covering the joints with soil. Seedlings may be used for grafting, providing they are grafted onto plants for the species listed as Wistaria frutescens.

Rarely do diseases bother this long-living vine—a factor worth consideration.

YOUTH TO BEAT
OLYMPIC STARS

NEW YORK (AP)—Olympic champions will be as common as flu bugs tonight when the 43rd annual Millrose Games open the Madison Square Garden indoor track season before an anticipated sellout crowd of 15,000.

But if everything goes according to form, Fred Dwyer, the youngster from Villanova College, will steal the thunder from the aces who showed their heels to everyone in Helsinki last summer.

Dwyer will be the favorite to dethrone Don Gehrmann, four-time winner of the Wanamaker Mile, and many of the experts are predicting he'll go under 4:04, which is mighty fast stepping indoors these days.

The secondary feature will be the 800 in which Mal Whitfield, the Olympic 800-meter tiltist, has promised to smash John Bortean's 12-year old 1:10.2 world record. He already has done 1:11.9 and 1:12 this year, so it isn't out of the realm of possibility.

Seton Hall Drubs Albright In Warmup

By The Associated Press
Seton Hall, the nation's only undefeated major college basketball team, warmed up for its crucial Saturday meeting with Villanova by drubbing Albright last night, 82-52.

Big Walter Dukes flipped in 20 points for Seton Hall, but the Pirates of South Orange, N. J., got a hint of trouble ahead when Villanova rallied in the second half to beat North Carolina State, 89-81. Villanova won on the accurate set shots of Larry Hennessey and Bob Schafer who got 21 and 20 points, respectively.

In other leading games Navy swamped Muhlenberg, 107-72; Army walloped St. Michaels (Vt.) 95-58 and Siena took Georgetown (DC) 72-57.

Sport Shorts

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Rookie pitcher Ed Wolfe returned his signed 1953 contract, the Pittsburgh Pirates announced today.

Wolfe, 24-year-old righthander, won 15 and lost 13 for the Pirates-owned New Orleans team in the Class AA Southern Association last year.

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Indians put away the signed contracts of pitcher Bob Hooper and outfielders Jim Friedley, Herbie Adams and Al Smith today. Now they have 20 players in the fold, with 25 to go.

Hooper is the pitcher got last season in a trade from the Athletics for Dick Rozek, and Adams is a former Chicago White Soxer.

U. S. Participating In Standardizing

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States ranks 18th among the national standards organizations of 34 nations in degree of participation in international standards work, says the American Standards Association.

The United States holds secretariats of eight technical committees. The group co-ordinates national standards in electrical and mechanical fields, the rubber, plastics and building industries and others.

Sal Maglie pitched 12 complete games in 1952 for the Giants and won all of them.

SET DATE FOR CHAMPIONSHIP
CAGE CONTEST

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Class A state basketball championship will be decided Saturday night, March 28, at the University of Pennsylvania Palestra in Philadelphia.

The Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association yesterday rescheduled the game a second time, returning to the original playing date and site. Last month the PIAA board of control changed the game to March 27 at Conyngham Hall, Philadelphia, when it was learned the Palestra was unavailable for the 28th.

Mark N. Funk, executive director said yesterday a change in schedules had made the Palestra available for Saturday, causing the switch back to the original plans.

The PIAA is considering televising the game but has not disclosed any definite arrangements.

The revised schedule gets the state Class B championship game for the 27th at the Pitt Field House, Pittsburgh. The C final will be held the same day but a site has not yet been decided upon.

Both Eastern and Western regional Class A finals will be played March 25.

FISH WARDENS'
ROUTES CHANGED

HARRISBURG (AP)—Beginning Feb. 1 state fish wardens will patrol watershed or stream districts instead of working on a county by county basis.

The new plan, designed to promote "travel economy," was disclosed yesterday by C. A. French, state fish commissioner.

He explained that the new system, establishing districts which may include an entire county or parts of bordering counties, will eliminate many miles of travel by a warden previously required to handle streams farm from his base of operations.

Under the new system wardens will take care of the streams they live closest to.

"In addition to the travel economy the field force will be better able to render valuable assistance to the commission's steam management program, provide better protection and more efficient field service," French added.

The change has been supported by the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs.

CHICAGO (AP)—Johnny Klippstein, fireball righthander who is expected to develop into one of the Chicago Cubs' pitching aces in 1953, signed his playing contract with the club today.

Klippstein, 25, had a 9-14 record with the Cubs in 1952. He worked in 203 innings, struck out 110 batters and walked 89.

He is the 22nd Cub to sign a 1953 contract.

McCREARY WINS
IN STRETCH RUN

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Jockey Con McCreary, who won the 1949 Kentucky Derby with a great stretch run on Ponder, gave Oil Capitol the same sort of ride yesterday to capture the $15,000 Palm Beach Handicap at Hialeah Park.

Oil Capitol was dead last in a field of 14 at the three-eighths pole in the seven furlong feature and was 12th at the five eighths marker, but he caught the favored Battlefield in the final strides to win by a neck.

MAY SOON LOSE DRIVING RIGHT ON POINT PLAN

HARRISBURG (P)—A plan to suspend the drivers license of traffic violators on the basis of a point system was before the House today.

Ray W. Greenwood (R—Wyoming) introduced a bill on Tuesday which would give various infractions a certain point value in line with how serious they are. Records of each driver's points would be kept on file.

The length of the suspensions would be based on the number of points accumulated by the driver. The bill provides indefinite license suspensions for regular offenders. Recommended for various offenses include:

Point System
Responsible for a fatal accident or drunken driving, 10 points; evading responsibility, 8; operating under suspension, 7; reckless driving, 6; speeding, 3; passing standing school bus, 2; and police or inspector's warnings, 1 point.

When an operator's file shows six or more points he would have a hearing at which his license could be suspended.

Other new house bills would: Permit state employees 15 days sick leave each year in addition to their 15-day vacation—Reps. Ray W. Greenwood (R—Wyoming) and Henry E. Ragot (R—Northampton).

Eliminate the maximum of $3,500 permitted the highway department for the construction of each roadside park—Rep. Baker Royer (R—Lancaster).

Include city transit systems under the State Compulsory Mediation Act for other public utilities—Rep. William A. Bolton (R—Montgomery).

Want Birth Date
Require the date of birth to be listed on a drivers license—Reps. Ragot and Clair H. Peifly (R—Northampton).

Permit persons who have moved from a district within two months prior to an election to vote in their old district—Rep. Allen M. Gibson (R—Warren).

Allow honorably discharged veterans separated from the service within 30 days prior to the last day to register for an election or primary to cast a ballot without registering—Rep. Edwin W. Thompson (R—Cameron).

Remove clubs from the limitation upon which new liquor licenses can be issued when quotas are filled—Reps. Ragot and Albert S. Readinger (D—Berks).

Require all vehicles to have mechanical or electrical stop and turn signal indicators—Reps. Ragot and Peifly.

CRASHED PLANE HAD GAS SUPPLY

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (P)—The discovery of an auxiliary wing tank with a small quantity of gas caused officials investigators to discount the theory that the lack of gasoline caused a plane crash Monday.

Representatives of the State Aeronautics Commission, Civil Aeronautics Administration and Civil Aeronautics Board found the wing tank Tuesday in the wreckage of the small craft near the State College airport.

Investigators found no structural faults. Three men and a woman on the way to a New York convention were killed when the plane nose-dived to the ground close to a runway.

When Venus is closest to the earth it is about 26 million miles away.

GROUP FAVORS CONSOLIDATION OF MINE BOARD

HARRISBURG (P)—The Chesterman Committee today proposed consolidation of the State Mines Department into the Department of Labor and Industry to save a $50,000 a year in administrative costs.

It reserved judgment on a subcommittee recommendation to scuttle the half million dollar mine sealing program.

In a third action, the committee recommended regulatory legislation for the first time for oil and gas well drilling.

The committee, headed by Francis J. Chesterman, Philadelphia, was created by Gov. John S. Fine to study possible economies in state government.

The group said the Mines Department, with 123 employees, is "too small as an administrative unit and too restricted in scope" to warrant status as a separate department.

Under the recommended consolidation, a division of mines would be created in the Labor and Industry Department.

The committee did not elaborate on its suggestion for the regulation of oil and gas well drilling except to say the mines division should have responsibility for enforcement.

In calling for a further study of the mine sealing question, the committee said mine-sealing has not been effective and that generally it cannot be made effective. In some instances mines are sealed but crevices on the surface allow water and air to enter.

"However, the Department of Health estimates the mine-sealing program to be 90 per cent effective in improving stream conditions. It is admitted that no attempt is made to seal every mine and that shallow cover mines cannot be effectively sealed.

The Chesterman group also said the State Fish Commission reported the mine sealing program was effective in ending a threat of pollution of Loyalsock Creek and the Youghiogheny River.

Examinations for mine inspectors should be handled by the civil service commission or by a proposed new personnel board, the committee said, rather than by the present anthracite and bituminous boards.

The committee called for better coordination of federal and state inspection of mines and for clarification of responsibilities in strip mine supervision, particularly on back-filling, levelling and reforestation.

C. E. WILSON AND STASSEN TAKE OATH OF OFFICE

WASHINGTON (P)—President Eisenhower's Cabinet was completed Wednesday when Charles E. Wilson took the oath of office as secretary of defense in the White House.

At the same time, Harold E. Stassen was sworn in as director of the Mutual Security Agency and former Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska as an administrative assistant to the President.

Wilson's assumption of office qualified him to attend a meeting of the National Security Council which Eisenhower called for this afternoon. The council was to review the condition of the country's defenses, and to hear reports on foreign, domestic and military policy.

Eisenhower stood beside Wilson, Stassen and Peterson at the swearing-in ceremony and expressed his pleasure at having them in his official family.

He returned to work at his desk today, apparently recovered from a slight cold. The President had remained in his White House study since Monday morning, Aides said he had a "slight case of the sniffles" and was taking no chances. But he was on the job at his office at 9:10 a.m.

EISENHOWER IS "MAN OF YEAR" ON EDITOR POLL

By SHERRY BOWEN

The Associated Press

General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower became a civilian in 1952 when he resigned his commission and went on to be President-elect of the United States. Associated Press newspaper and radio editors chose him Man of the Year on the basis of his landslide victory which ended 20 years of Democratic control in the federal government. That choice dictated his designation as political man of the year.

"Ike" became an international hero in World War II. He led the Allied armies that smashed Hitler's fortress Europe. After a term as chief of staff, top U.S. Army position, he retired in 1948 to a civilian role as president of Columbia University.

But with the cold war posing new problems, President Truman called Eisenhower to Washington as temporary chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. The general took a short leave from his civilian job. It became a long leave in 1950 when he was called to help organize and lead the North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces.

Retired From Army

This was the job he had in January 1952 when he said he would accept the Republican nomination for President of the United States if it were offered. At first he said he would not campaign. But in May, after he had shown great strength in several state primaries, he reconsidered. He left his NATO job and had himself placed in a retired status without pay.

He toured the country in what became a sharp contest with Sen. Robert

WOULD CHANGE SCHOOL BUS ACT FOR PROTECTION

HARRISBURG (P)—Two bills designed to safeguard children on the highways and in play places were under study by Senate committees today.

One measure would require drivers of school buses to discharge children on the side of the road nearest their home on stops along highways of three or more lanes.

The other bill would prohibit the abandonment of refrigerators on vacant lots or other places where children might play unless latches are removed from the doors.

"Many children have been trapped and suffocated in such boxes while playing," said Sen. Edward B. Watson (R-Bucks), sponsor of the bill. Sen. Charles R. Mallery (R-Blair) introduced the bus bill.

Other Senate Bills
Other new senate bills would:
Authorize the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission to develop port and terminal facilities north of the Philadelphia City line—Sen. Watson.
Adopt a song by Helen Hall

Bucher of Boiling Springs, Cumberland County, entitled "Pennsylvania" as the state song—Sen. George N. Wade (R-Cumberland).

Require truck owners violating weight limits of bridges to pay the costs of their prosecution in addition to the current $100 fine—Sen. Fred P. Hare Jr. (R-Somerset).

Expand the investment powers of state administrative departments, boards, commissions and officers—Sen. James S. Berger (R-Potter).

Boost For Assessors
Provide for the appointment and removal of county fire marshals in counties of the third to eighth class—Sen. Watson.

Increase the pay from $7 to $15 a day plus five cents a mile traveled for assessors in counties from the fourth to the eighth class—Sen. Watson.

Provide for retirement benefit payments for any school employee returning to the same district he served in prior to entering the armed forces—Sen. Wade.

LANCASTER, Pa. (P)—Fire destroyed the electrical appliance store of Ross B. Witmer at Lancaster on Wednesday. Fire Chief Vernon Lefever estimated damage at $125,000.

The Witmer home, about 55 feet away, was saved although it was blistered on one side and some windowpanes broken.

2 NEGOTIATORS IN PEACE TALKS STARTED RIOTS

TOKYO (P)—The United Nations Command today charged the two top Communist armistice negotiators with "direct responsibility" for bloody prisoner of war riots on Koje and Cheju Islands.

The UNC quoted captured Communist documents and Allied intelligence reports in directly blaming North Korean Gen. Nam Il, senior Red delegate to the suspended talks, and his deputy, Gen. Lee Sang Cho.

The allies said the uprising which cost the lives of more than 200 Red prisoners, were part of the "Communist campaign on the second front of the Korean War."

In its lengthy statement, the UNC said Nam and Lee had dual functions:

1—To represent the Reds at the truce parleys.
2—"Covertly and more important, to mastermind the incidents within UNC prisoner of war camps."

Reds Directed Riots
The UNC previously said the Communist high command directed the riots. But this was the first time it named the negotiators as instigators.

"These two generals and their fanatical followers have exploited a new area of total war," the UNC charged.

The statement spelled out in detail steps it said the Reds took to organize the riots.

"Many prisoners captured by the U. N. forces have admitted they were deliberate plants, dispatched to penetrate the prison camps at Koje, where they were to establish 'cell organization committees' in each camp," the statement asserted.

It declared there was direct chain of command from the armistice negotiators right down to individual compounds in the prisoner camps.

HARRISBURG (P)—A State Health Department official has recommended the inoculation against influenza of key personnel in schools and industry to prevent possible paralyzing effects of a virus epidemic.

HARRISBURG (P)—Theodore A. Serrill, general manager of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association, told the House tax-writing committee today that a levy of one cent a copy on newspapers would be "a special privilege tax upon a free press."

Gettysburg College Math Prof Wrote Eye-Witness Account Of Battle; Traces Move Northward

This is the second and final installment of the condensed excerpts from an eye witness account of the invasion of Maryland and Pennsylvania in 1863, written by the Rev. Dr. Michael Jacobs, professor of mathematics, natural philosophy and chemistry at Pennsylvania college from 1832 to 1866, and published in "The Pennsylvania Guardsman."

Friday, June 26 (1863)
The 26th regiment arrived at Gettysburg on their camping ground at 9 a. m. and, by order of Major Haller, although contrary to the earnest remonstrances of Jennings, colonel of the regiment, was sent forward, at 10:30 a. m. on the Chambersburg pike. This was a suicidal movement of a handful, chiefly of inexperienced men, in the face of a large body of experienced troops.

The Rebels afterwards laughed at the folly of the order. But advancing to the distance of about three miles westward, our little band encamped, and threw out their pickets. At about 3 p. m. the Rebels in force made their appearance, and captured nearly all their pickets, 40 in number.

Colonel Jennings, who had, on several occasions, shown himself to be an officer as skillful himself as he is cool and brave, seeing the trap into which he had been led, immediately, upon sight of the enemy, divided the regiment into three squads, in order to deceive them with the appearance of a large body of infantry.

Deception Is Successful
The deception proved so far successful that the Rebels did not press them, fearing that a direct attack might prove more serious than a mere skirmish. Jennings' band, however, hastily retreated eastward over the fields, and by country roads, occasionally skirmishing with the enemy's cavalry, which was sent in pursuit of them; and after losing 120 more of their number near Hunterstown, and zigzagging very frequently, being often within hearing distance of their pursuers, they reached Harrisburg on Sunday, the 28th of June, much fatigued, having marched 54 out of 60 continuous hours.

Too much praise cannot be awarded Colonel Jennings, for the skillful manner in which he conducted this retreat, and saved the regiment from capture.

Search For Horses
The advance guard of the enemy, consisting of 180 to 200 cavalry, rode into Gettysburg at 3:45 p. m., shouting and yelling like so many savages from the wilds of the Rocky Mountains; firing their pistols, not caring whether they killed or maimed man, woman or child; and rushing from stable to stable in search of horses, the most of which, however, had fortunately a few hours before been sent forward to Hanover and York.

This advance party was soon followed by 5,000 infantry, being General Gordon's brigade of Early's division of Ewell's corps. Most of the men were exceedingly dirty, some ragged, some without shoes, and some surmounted by the skeleton of what was once an entire hat, affording unmistakable evidence that they stood in great need of having their scanty wardrobe replenished; and hence the eagerness with which they inquired after shoe, hat and clothing stores, and their disappointment when they were informed that goods of that description were not to be had in town; and it ought not to have surprised us that they actually took shoes and hats from the persons of some of our Franklin county cousins, whom they considered more able to endure the loss than we, whilst they permitted us to escape that infliction.

Being wet from the rain which had fallen during the most of the day, and considerably heated by a long march, there was found by a person near them as they passed, to have been more truth than fiction in the remark of a friend, that "the air was filled with the filthy exhalations from their bodies." Whether this was judgment dictated by prejudice, or not, it was difficult for us to recognize, in the great body of them, the character previously heralded in our community by a lady sympathizer, of "chivalrous Southerners, all from the first families of the South." But we do not intend to reproach them for not presenting a better appearance; they doubtless did the best they could, and had come a long journey for the express purpose of supplying their pressing wants.

Early's Demands
General Early, who accompanied this brigade, and remained in town over Friday night, demanded of the authorities of our borough 1,200 pounds of sugar, 600 pounds of coffee, 60 barrels of flour, 1,000 pounds of salt, 7,000 pounds of bacon, 10 barrels of whiskey, 10 barrels of onions, 1,000 pairs of shoes, and 500 hats, amounting in value to $6,000; or, in lieu thereof, $5,000 cash.

To this demand Messrs. D. Kendelhart and A. D. Buehler, as representatives of the town council, replied in substance, that it was impossible to comply with their demands; that the goods were not in town or within reach; that the borough had no funds, and the council had no authority to borrow either in the name of the borough or county; and that, as we were at the mercy of the general and his men, they could search, and take from citizens and the empty stores whatsoever they might be able to find.

No attempt was made to enforce the requisition, and but few of the houses of citizens were robbed. Whether this forbearance was owing to the evident fact that he was outwitted by our citizens, or from his generosity to our apparent poverty, we will permit our York friends to judge, to whom he is reported to have replied, when as a reason why he should not insist on the enforcement of the large demand he had made of them, they reminded him of his leniency towards us, "Why, gentlemen, there was nothing there to take." Be it so; Gettysburg escaped; and York paid a premium of $28,000.

Burn Railroad Bridge
During the evening of Friday, however, the Rebels burned the railroad bridge and a few cars, took from the few articles that our merchants had not sent away such as suited them, and divested the taverns and liquor stores of their liquors. Besides this, they did not do much damage in the town. In the country, however, they treated the farmers less gently. They there re-enacted their old farce of professing to pay for what they took, by offering freely their worthless "Confederate" scrip; which, they said, would, in a few days, be better than our own currency. In the town they obtained but little booty, because all the valuables of the Bank, and nearly all those of the merchants, had been previously sent for safety to Philadelphia.

This proved a great disappointment to them; and they acknowledged that, for this time, they had been too slow in their movements. They consequently hurried forward, that night and the next morning, towards Hanover and York. A portion of them passed through Hanover at 11 a. m., reaching the Northern Central Railroad at Hanover Junction early in the afternoon, whilst another portion went to East Berlin, and on the next day, Sunday, reached York. Our citizens, with a few exceptions, kept at a respectful distance from them during their stay amongst us, avoiding as much as possible communicating any information which might prove advantageous to them; so much so, that they said: "It is a very strange thing that you people know so little."

Saturday, June 27
Whilst the Rebels were going to Hanover and to Hanover Junction, to destroy the bridges and rolling stock of the Northern Central Railroad, three scouts of our advance cavalry, near Emmitsburg, came dashing into town, at 9½ a. m., to our great joy. We felt that we were once more within the Federal lines, and more than one person exclaimed, "Thank God for that." Two despatch-bearers, one of whom was a chaplain, sent by General Ewell, then at Shippensburg, to General Early, were captured in our streets by these scouts. The purport of their despatches was, that General Early should not advance his division too rapidly, as that might be attended with some danger, in an enemy's country. In fact, some of Early's men were overheard, in the streets of Gettysburg, early on this morning, to say to each other, that they were afraid that they had ventured too far into Pennsylvania, and had been led into a trap.

Tuesday, June 30
At 9½ A. M., a portion of Hill's corps advanced on the Chambersburg turnpike, as far as the crest of the Seminary hill, one-half of a mile northwest of Gettysburg, throwing about two dozen of infantry pickets as far down as Mr. Sheed's house. Several officers on horseback were seen reconnoitering with their field glasses, and engaged in conversation with the people residing near the road on the hill, eliciting, no doubt, as much information as they could obtain. They brought with them 15 wagons, probably with the intention of coming to town and robbing us of such merchandise and provisions as might have been gathered or brought to light since Early's raid. They were also accompanied with artillery, and thus came prepared for any resistance which they might encounter.

This was also, perhaps, intended to be a reconnaissance in force, or a movement for the purpose of taking possession of Gettysburg. There must have been several thousand men in this advance, for their line of march extended at least a mile and a half in length. At 10½ A. M., they again withdrew towards Cash-town, undoubtedly aware of the near approach of General Buford's Federal cavalry, which arrived in about an hour afterwards. This is shown to be highly probable, by the fact that they attempted to form a decoy for him at Marsh Creek, where two regiments defied under cover of a hill, one to the right of the road, the other to the left, whilst a third was sent a short distance forward to induce pursuit by our men. In this position they remained for about two hours, after which they withdrew farther towards their camp.

Union Cavalry Arrives
At 11½ A. M., 6,000 Federal cavalry, under General Buford, arrived, passing through Washington street to the Chambersburg turnpike, and by one mile and a half northwestward, as far as Hon. E. McPherson's farm, where they encamped, and placed their artillery in position. During the afternoon, the First corps of infantry, numbering about 8,000 men, under General Reynolds, and the Eleventh corps, numbering about 15,000, under General Howard, also came from Emmitsburg to the right bank of Marsh creek, four miles southwest of Gettysburg, and encamped there for the night.

By order of General Lee, Hill's corps, consisting of three divisions, in the following order: General Heath, 10,000; Pender, 10,000; and Anderson, 15,000,—were moved to the vicinity of Marsh creek. On this day Longstreet's corps followed, in the order of, first, McLaws, 12,000; then Hood, 12,000; whilst Pickett, 7,000, delayed until Thursday, at Chambersburg, to protect the rear, and the wagon trains. Two divisions also of Ewell's corps, viz.: Rhoads' and Early's, the former numbering 10,000 men, and the latter 9,000, according to Rebel accounts, had encamped for the night at Heidlersburg, nine miles from Gettysburg, whilst the third, Johnston's 12,000, had been delayed at Carlisle. Thus there were encamped, that night, within a short distance of our town, 23,000 Union infantry, and 6,000 cavalry—29,000; and 78,000 Rebel infantry, and a large number of cavalry ready to meet each other in deadly conflict on the next day.

Editor's Closing Note: Balance of the book covers the Battle of Gettysburg, the meditated movement, Gettysburg, July 1-3.

In England, the practice of holding "wakes" over a dead body seems to be older than Christianity and in pre-Christian times was designed to guard the body against evil spirits.

STANDARDIZED ADOPTION BILL IS UNDER STUDY

HARRISBURG (P)—Legislation to set up a standardized child adoption procedure in Pennsylvania was under study by a Senate committee today.

"Our aim is to place adoptable children in the hands of qualified parents in as short a period as possible and to have the adoption stick," said Sen. Robert D. Fleming (R-Allegheny), one of the sponsors of a package of adoption bills. The measures would establish a Protective Adoption Placement Service with the State Welfare Department. Co-sponsors with Fleming are Sens. Rowland B. Mahany (R-Crawford) and John H. Dent (R-Westmoreland).

Follow Two Year's Work
Fleming said the bills are the result of a Joint State Government Commission study two years ago. The commission is the legislature's research arm.

Under the legislation private agencies placing children for adoption would have to be licensed and supervised by the placement service.

The proposal was one of 32 introduced in the Senate on Tuesday, the first meeting since the 1953 General Assembly organized on Jan. 6. Introduction of bills in the House was put off until appointment of standing committees.

Other Senate Bills
Other Senate bills would:
Permit the sale of milk for home consumption in gallon containers — Sen. Dent.

Abolish all principal grade crossings in the state within 10 years. — Sen. Dent.

Require notaries public to be registered voters in the counties in which they are commissioned — Sen. Fleming.

Extend from Sept. 30, 1952, until June 1, 1953, the deadline under which nursing school graduates may be issued a license without examination — Sen. George N. Wade (R-Cumberland).

100-MAN RED RAID IS BROKEN UP BY ALLIES

SEOUL (P)—A 100-man Communist attack smashed against the main U. N. lines on the Eastern Front Wednesday, but Allied defenders cut the Red force to bits, the U. S. Eighth Army reported.

In the air, the Fifth Air Force said U. S. Sabre jets damaged one Communist MIG jet fighter in a late afternoon encounter over Uiju, just south of the Manchurian border. It was the 10th straight day of air battles deep in Northwest Korea.

Big Mo Pounds Coast

At sea, the Navy said 16-inch guns of the 45,000-ton battleship Missouri on Tuesday pounded the East Korean Coast off Chongjin, 60 miles south of the Russian border.

Eighth Army headquarters said United Nations troops killed at 20 and possibly 40 Korean attackers in the bitter, bloody scrap north of the Punchbowl. Another 32 Reds were wounded.

Only light patrol activity was reported elsewhere as a 2-inch carpet of snow fell across the frozen battlefield.

Although children of multiple human births usually are small at birth, most twins and triplets are normal size at 6.

Modern drugs save your life AND YOUR MONEY

Few purchases today represent bigger bargains than prescriptions. Because the modern drugs your physician prescribes are so effective against serious diseases, people live and get well faster than ever before. This means hospital, nursing, and medical costs are lowered.

There's another angle, too. Despite the millions upon millions spent on research, the pharmaceutical industry is dedicated to lowering drug costs. Within the last five years, for example, streptomycin prices have been reduced 97%. Similar price reductions have been made on such other life-saving drugs as penicillin, cortisone, and many others.

In these days of inflation we thought you'd like to know your prescription is still an outstanding value. We'd welcome the opportunity to help you to better health at lower cost.

Today's prescription is one of life's thriftiest purchases

BELIEVES 1953 GOOD YEAR FOR STEEL INDUSTRY

NEW YORK (AP)—The head of the nation's biggest steelmaking company believes 1953 as a whole will be a good year for the steel industry.

Benjamin F. Fairless, chairman of United States Steel Corp., made the comment at a news conference late Tuesday after the corporation reported its net income for strike-marred 1952 dropped 40 million dollars below the 1951 total.

U. S. Steel's net of $144,285,522, equal to $4.56 a common share, last year represented a return of 4.6 per cent on sales of $3,137,253,359. In the preceding year the company netted 5.2 per cent on record sales of $3,524,121,226.

Fairless attributed the decline largely to effects of the 54-day steel strike that shut the industry down last summer.

Currently, he said, U. S. Steel is operating its steelmaking facilities at 101 per cent of its new capacity rated at 36,400,000 tons of ingots and steel castings a year.

Strike Recovery

Recovering from the strike, the company in the final three months of 1952 shipped a record total of 6,626,668 net tons of finished steel products. But its net income for the quarter, despite a drop in estimated federal taxes on income, totaled $48,126,916 or $1.60 a share, slightly less than the $49,219,645, or $1.64 a share earned in the like period a year earlier.

Fairless' comment about 1953 being a good year came after he said steel demand was holding up as predicted and was exceeding supply in most products.

U. S. Steel's backlog was described as about 19 weeks of production at current rates.

Fairless said the company has enough iron ore to maintain full

CHURCH GIVEN LUMBER MILLS

PENDLETON, Ore. (AP)—A 10 million dollar lumber manufacturing business was turned over to the Seventh Day Adventist church yesterday by a man and his wife, who said they "did right by the Lord and He did right by us."

The business includes the Harris Pine Mills here, one of the nation's largest unfinished furniture producers, and furniture assembly plants at Chicago Heights, Ill.; Alexandria, Va.; and Cleburne, Tex.

Clyde H. Harris, 62, explained the gift this way:

"We have tried to be faithful

Couple Observing 59th Anniversary

Mrs. and Mr. Martin Harman, Lincoln Square, quietly observed their 59th anniversary Wednesday.

They are the parents of four children, Earl, Allen and Mrs. William Miller, all of Gettysburg, and Glenn, York. They have 15 grandchildren and a number of great-grandchildren.

Both enjoy good health. Mrs. Harman is the former Miss Ellen Englebert.

in our dealings with the Lord and He has given us far more than we deserve. Now we are giving our entire business to him."

Returns from the business will help support churches, hospitals and schools of the denomination in this country and abroad, President W. H. Branson of the Seventh Day Adventist church, who flew here from Washington, D. C., to complete the transaction, said.

LABOR GROUP HAS OPEN MIND

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman McConnell (R-Pa.) said today the House Labor Committee is keeping an open mind on possible changes in the Taft-Hartley law until it completes an extensive hearing.

With the hearing set to get under way Feb. 10, McConnell said there are "no bills, no amendments, nothing to which we are wed."

"We'll let the hearings determine that. When they are ended, the committee will endeavor to write a bill based on the testimony."

Sessions are expected to continue for at least two months, possibly longer.

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), a co-author of the labor-management relations law, has introduced five bills proposing 16 changes in it. The bills are up for consideration by the Senate Labor Committee, expected to begin hearings before March 1. McConnell said he expects the House hearings to deal mainly with the sections of the law which cover the National Labor Relations Board, unfair labor practices, the non-Communist oath requirement, union elections and national emergencies.

CHLOROPHYLL IN CLOTHES

NEW YORK (AP)—Chlorophyll has now become a "secret agent" of dry cleaners to give suits an anti-odor finish, reports the British Information Service here.

A special form of chlorophyll is used to treat the clothing at the steaming and pressing stage. A British firm is already shipping 500 pounds of the special chlorophyll by air every week to the United States, says the report.

AUTOMATIC LIFE TERM

HARRISBURG (AP)—A bill imposing a life prison term after the third conviction on selling or giving away narcotics has been introduced in the House.

"The bill is designed to take those habitual offenders out of circulation for good," said Rep. Leroy A. Weidner (R-Berks), its sponsor.

CONGRESSMEN NOT GETTING OUT "RUBBER STAMP" FOR EISENHOWER

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—In office only 10 days, President Eisenhower already has had a bumpy time of it with Congress, where his own party is in control.

He has not had a break with the lawmakers. He has not suffered any major defeats or reverses at their hands yet. But they have refused to rubber-stamp his suggestions.

Most of his trouble has been over men he picked for high office. But the groundwork was laid this week to make it easier for Congress to block any Eisenhower attempts at reorganizing or streamlining the government.

His First Bump
His first bump was the nomination of Charles E. Wilson, former president of General Motors, as secretary of defense. When Wilson told the senators he saw no reason to sell his G. M. stock, the senators said "Whoa."

They pointed out he might have to pass on government contracts with G. M. if he was secretary. He said he could do it impartially. That wasn't the point, they said.

They reminded him: There's a law forbidding a government official to do government business with a firm in which he has money interest. They made it clear he could not be secretary unless he sold his stock.

In Same Fix
After thinking this over, he said he'd sell it. They approved him. But among men he had picked to be his top assistants were two in exactly the same fix as himself.

Hotpoint
APPLIANCES
ELECTRICAL WIRING
and MAINTENANCE
KLINEFELTER
ELECTRIC SERVICE
Biglerville Phone 175

They were Robert T. B. Stevens for Army secretary and Harold E. Talbot for secretary of the Air Force. Both have financial interests in firms doing business with the government.

Wilson seems to think he has a plan to keep them from dealing with their old firms, let them keep their holdings, and still get Senate approval. But unless they sell, they may not get that approval.

Job For Peterson
Eisenhower reportedly had wanted to make Val Peterson, former Republican governor of Nebraska, U. S. ambassador to India. But Nebraska's two Republican senators, Hugh Butler and Dwight Griswold, are said to have told Eisenhower "Nothing doing."

They could prevent Senate approval of Peterson simply by telling the other senators he was obnoxious to them. Butler was re-elected last year but Peterson had tried to beat him for the job.

Eisenhower finally made Peterson one of his administrative assistants at $15,000 a year, a job which didn't need Senate approval.

May Be Fight On Conant
Eisenhower picked Dr. James B. Conant, outgoing president of Harvard, to be U. S. high commissioner in Germany. There may be a Senate fight over him too.

Some Roman Catholics are critical of Conant because they say he attacked the parochial school system in a speech last year. Conant's friends claim his remarks were misinterpreted.

Eisenhower's fellow Republican, Sen. McCarthy, a Wisconsin Catholic who said he had received a "tremendous number" of complaints about Conant, may argue against Senate approval.

Another Republican, Sen. Mundt, a South Dakota Methodist, drew a bead on Conant from an unexpected direction. "Too bookish," he said, "to be high commissioner," Mundt said.

Same Situation
When President Truman wanted to reorganize a government agency he sent his plan to Congress. Unless either House disapproved, the plan went through. House or Senate could block it by a specified vote.

The same situation faces Eisenhower. But all 15 Republicans on a House committee voted to make it easier—by lowering the required vote—for the House to block Eisenhower than it was to block Truman in such cases. All 14 Democrats on the committee voted on Eisenhower's side.

In the Senate a committee approved a bill—with Republicans and Democrats voting for it—to

HE'S A FOURTEEN BARREL MAN—Terry Browne, 33-year-old Detroit, Mich., fireman, is at the halfway mark as he sails over fourteen barrels with the greatest of ease in the world barrel-jumping championships at Crossinger, N. TOP GENERALS TALK IN TOKYO

TOKYO (AP)—Three of America's top generals met in Tokyo today for strategy talks on the Korean War.

Within an hour Gen. J. Lawton Collins, U. S. Army chief of staff, and Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, commander designate of the Eighth Army, flew in from opposite directions for conferences with Gen. Mark Clark, the U. S. Far East commander.

The meeting came amid continuing speculation that the war soon will take a new turn—either in a full-scale Allied offensive or in greater direct pressure against the Chinese Communist mainland.

Taylor leaves for Korea in a day or two to take command of the Eighth Army from retiring Gen. James A. Van Fleet, who has had the job since April, 1951.

Tearful Farewell
SEOUL (AP)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet bade 50,000 cheering Koreans a tearful farewell today and promised to return one day to visit the war-ravaged peninsula.

Van Fleet will surrender command of the U. S. Eighth Army to Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor early next month and leave for the U. S. and retirement. He has led the multi-nation Allied army in defense of South Korea since April, 1951.

Although many sharks are dangerous to men or animals in the water, others feed on nothing but microscopic sea animals and plants.

do what the House committee wants, Sen. McCarthy and Sen. McClellan, Arkansas Democrat, pushed this idea.

Since in each case it was only a committee acting, nothing is final until the full membership of both houses vote on the proposal.

Repatriation Of Prisoners And Ending War In Korea Are Big Problems For Eisenhower

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — All eyes watch President Eisenhower to see what he can do about the war in Korea, where the truce talks have stopped dead on the question of prisoners.

The Communists demand the United Nations hand back all prisoners, whether or not the prisoners want to return or say they're afraid to return. The U. N. says it will send back no prisoners against their will.

Some day the two sides may resume the peace talks. Or Eisenhower may try, by force of arms, to win the war. But as of now the prisoner question is at the heart of the deadlock. It has a long background.

After World War I Russia's Bolshevik government signed a number of peace treaties. Former Secretary of State Acheson has cited 17 in which:

Up To Prisoners

Russia agreed all prisoners of war should be returned to their homeland but only if they wanted to go. One treaty, for example, said: "Repatriation ought not to be enforced; it is left to the free choice of the prisoners."

There were two ideas involved: (1) that as soon as a war was over, all prisoners who wanted to return home should be returned at once; but (2) if they were afraid to return, they shouldn't be forced to.

This was not a novel idea. It was simply in keeping with the long-established "principle of asylum" among nations. Meaning: If a man fled from Country A to Country B because, for instance, he said he feared persecution for his political beliefs in his own country, A, then Country B could let him stay and refuse to force his return to A.

In Red Constitution

Soviet Russia liked this principle so much that it was embodied in the Soviet Constitution of 1936 in a clause providing asylum for political fugitives.

After World War II Russia was accused of deliberately holding back prisoners it had captured—particularly German and Japanese—who wanted to return to their homelands.

This was contrary to previous understandings among nations about war prisoners—that once the war was over they should be returned home at once, if they wanted to go.

Cite Geneva Agreement

And there had been several international agreements that prisoners who wanted to return home after a war should be sent home at once. For example, there was such an agreement made at Geneva in 1929.

So in 1949 there was another meeting at Geneva, to revise the 1929 agreement made there. The United States and Russia took part. One sentence agreed to in 1949 later became very much a sore point in the Korean War.

This sentence, part of what is called Article 118, says simply: "Prisoners of war shall be re-

ROGER M. KYES APPROVED FOR DEFENSE POST

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Armed Service Committee has given unanimous approval to the nomination of Roger M. Kyes as deputy secretary of defense. The General Motors vice president had promised to sell his extensive stock holdings that might conflict with the defense job.

This was the second of the controversial defense department nominations to win approval of the committee. Earlier, it endorsed Charles E. Wilson as defense secretary and the nomination later was approved by the full Senate.

But there were reports today that Eisenhower may abandon his plan to name Robert T. B. Stevens Army secretary unless Stevens finds a way to dispose of his textile business.

Raises Criticism

Kyes, a tall graying executive, appeared for a brief committee session today and reporters were admitted for his testimony.

Only one criticism was raised: Sen. Hunt (D-Wyo.) said he would vote for Kyes but questioned the policy of installing both the president and vice president of general motors—largest defense contractors—as top officials in the Defense Department.

The committee action sends the nomination on for expected Senate approval.

Like Wilson, Kyes agreed to dispose of all his General Motors stock prior to April 1.

SENATE GROUP DIGS INTO PILE OF APPOINTEES

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, accepting Secretary of State Dulles' word on the loyalty of his appointees, today digs into the logjam of State Department nominations.

Scheduled to appear today are Winthrop W. Aldrich, nominated as ambassador to Great Britain, and Mrs. Oswald B. Lord, named U. S. Representative on the Human Rights Commission of the United Nations.

Chairman Wiley (R-Wis.) of the Senate committee said hearings would be arranged soon on these other nominations sent up by President Eisenhower.

Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, under secretary of state, James Bryant Conant, high commissioner to Germany.

Herman Phleger, counsel to the State Department.

The pileup developed after the committee decided not to act on confirming any State Department appointments until the FBI had made a security check.

Emergency Procedure

The committee waived this rule in approving five top foreign policy officials, Dulles included, and then went back to it. Further hearings were delayed pending reports from the FBI.

Dulles had written Wiley that it was of the utmost importance to get his new State Department team into office at once.

The committee thereupon set up an emergency procedure.

Under it, Dulles will write a letter assuring the senators each appointee is loyal and a good security risk. The committee then will hold its hearing and vote on the nominee. The FBI check will proceed, with the understanding that any appointee confirmed under this procedure would be fired if the FBI report showed such action to be necessary.

IKE ASSEMBLES TOP AIDES FOR PARLEY TODAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower assembled his top military, foreign affairs and intelligence officers today for a full-dress review of the foreign situation and a discussion of cold war strategy.

He has expanded the conference with the National Security Council, bringing the heads of several agencies to the White House.

Along with the regular council members, Eisenhower called in Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, retiring chief of the Central Intelligence Agency; and Allen Dulles, designated to succeed Smith as CIA boss.

World-Wide Topics
Vice President Nixon, Secretary of State Dulles, Secretary of Defense Wilson and Mutual Security Director Harold Stassen will attend the conference as members of the council. The President is chairman.

There were indications that both Western Europe and the Far East would be discussed.

Dulles and Stassen leave tomorrow for a 10-day tour of Western Europe. Their itinerary calls for meetings in Italy, France, England, Western Germany, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

European Plans Stalled
In a televised speech Tuesday night, Dulles said the plan for European defense, which includes a mixed six-nation European army, "now seems to be somewhat stalled" and Eisenhower had asked him to make a quick survey.

Dulles said that, should defense efforts fail in Western Europe, "it would be necessary to give a little re-thinking to America's own foreign policy in relation to Western Europe."

The question is closely tied in with appropriations for foreign aid, a subject on which some congressmen believe Eisenhower may encounter serious obstacles in Congress. Former President Truman's budget earmarked $7,600,000,000 for assistance to America's allies. Some Republican legislators suggested it could be cut to five billion.

To Change Reds' Minds
Stassen, as mutual security administrator, will be in charge of allocating a large portion of what ever is appropriated.

With respect to the Far East, Dulles said in his speech that the Communists feel they have an advantage in continuing the fighting in Korea and Indochina.

"I believe Gen. Eisenhower will find the ways to make the enemy change his mind in that respect so that they too will want peace," Dulles said.

Working On Speech
A White House aide said Eisenhower had read Dulles' speech before it was presented. But James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, declined to comment on an Associated Press report that Dulles' statement was based on plans for specific moves to end the fighting in Korea and Indochina.

The President is still at work on a draft of his State of the Union message. He postponed yesterday's scheduled meeting with the National Security Council to devote the afternoon to it.

CLIMAX NEAR ON APPOINTMENTS IN DEFENSE DEPT.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Efforts of the Eisenhower administration to install three business leaders as secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force neared a climax today.

Two sudden developments late yesterday indicated that the new administration is willing to face up to a probable Senate fight over confirmation of two of them.

The first move came from Charles E. Wilson, confirmed by the Senate as new secretary of defense after he agreed to sell his 2½ million dollars worth of General Motors stock.

Wilson Issues Order
Wilson issued an order that might allow the designated secretaries and other defense subordinates to retain stock holdings and still serve as officials.

The second move came from Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee, announcing a public hearing today on the three men Wilson selected to serve under him:

Robert T. B. Stevens, Connecticut textile industry head, designated as secretary of Army; Robert B. Anderson, Texas oil and land man, secretary of Navy; and Harold E. Talbott, New York industrialist, secretary of Air.

SEEK CLUES TO BLAZE ABOARD BRITISH LINER

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng. (AP)—A Scotland Yard expert joined detectives combing the British liner Queen Elizabeth today for clues to the cause of a fire that broke out—and was quickly put out—last night in a main deck cabin of the world's biggest ship.

"It might have been accidental, it might have been wilful," said Southampton's chief constable Charles Box after the mid-evening blaze.

Scotland Yard sent a specialist to examine charred wood which had been carefully preserved after the fire.

The 83,673-ton Cunard liner is in drydock, undergoing her annual overhaul before resuming transatlantic service to New York Feb. 11. Officials noted that smoking is banned among workmen refitting the ship in the King George V drydock.

The investigation into the blaze coincides with inquiries now underway into the fire destruction last week end in Liverpool of the Canadian transatlantic liner Empress of Canada. Three small mystery fires broke out aboard the liner Queen Mary, sister ship of the Elizabeth, while she was in drydock here last month.

Police and detectives threw a tight guard about the ship, checking on everyone leaving or boarding her. Firemen stood by until late last night.

The detectives today questioned 600 workmen busy on the Elizabeth's overhaul. Only about 50 workmen were aboard the ship last night when the fire broke out.

A spokesman for the Cunard line said it was possible the fire was caused by someone smoking against orders. However, no work was being done in the cabin which caught fire.

A heavy guard was thrown around the Queen Mary also. Fire patrols at all major British ports have been strengthened since the Empress of Canada fire.

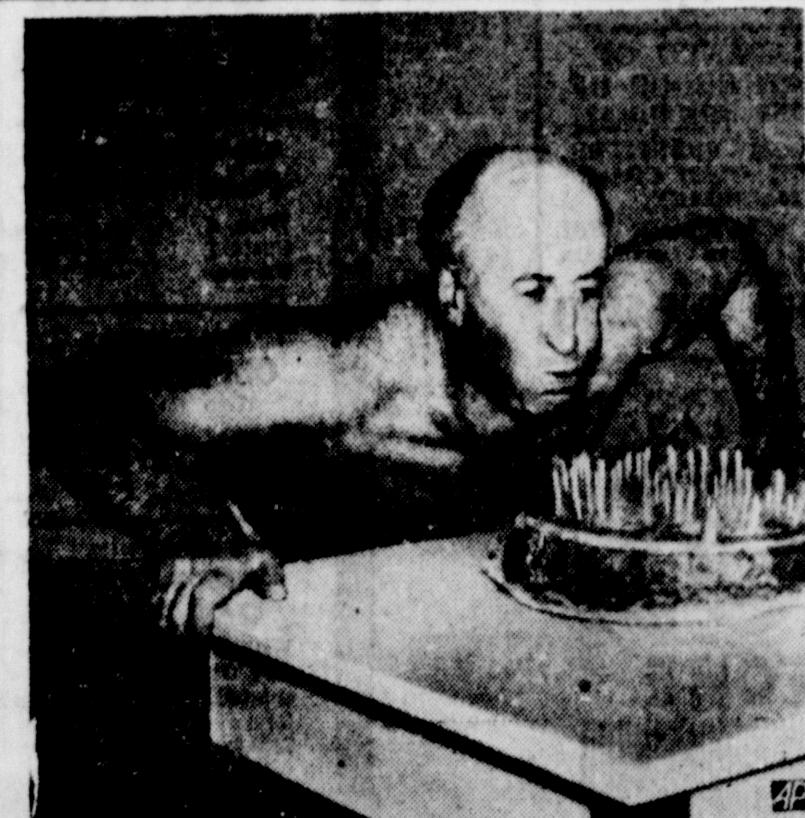

York County Gas Rates Increased

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Public Utility Commission yesterday authorized the York County Gas Co. to increase rates of 7.50¢ of its consumers an estimated $239,800 annually, effective Sunday.

The company furnishes service to 33,924 users in York County and parts of Adams County, but the increase affects only the larger consumers.

The company cited higher operating costs due to a "substantial" increase in the cost of its natural gas purchased from the manufacturers Light and Heat Co. Pittsburgh.

The PUC said the increase would affect only those whose monthly gas bill is now $660 or more.

Farm Calendar

Use Poultry Pasture—A good poultry pasture can help ease the problem of high feed prices. A good legume and bluegrass sod has a high feeding value because of the proteins, vitamins, and minerals in the forage produced.

Order Vegetable Seeds—If any new and improved varieties look particularly good in the new seed catalogs, order a small amount for trial this year rather than discard the older varieties entirely in favor of the new ones, says James Dutt, extension vegetable specialist of the Pennsylvania State College.

Keep Records on Cows—One of the reasons for keeping records on dairy cattle, especially those in dairy herd improvement associations, is to find good cow families that will improve dairy herds, reminds C. R. Gearhart, Penn State extension dairy specialist.

Hay Supplies Protein—Beef cows getting at least 5 to 6 pounds per head daily of good legume hay will have no shortage of protein, says Thomas King, Penn State extension livestock specialist.

Use Good Soil—It is necessary to use a good soil for starting vegetable plants, points out Robert Fletcher, Penn State extension garden specialist. It should not be heavy nor too fertile.

Get Soil Tested—Mail soil sample to the soil testing laboratory at the Pennsylvania State College as soon as possible. James Eakin, extension agronomist, says you will avoid the March rush and you will get your report in time to order the lime and fertilizer needed to supply the deficiencies shown by the test.

Use Dependable Seed—Robert Fletcher, Penn State extension vegetable specialist, points out that if you had especially good results with the seeds that you planted last year, then repeat that order giving the stock number of the variety or strain if possible. Be sure to order early, before seed stocks are exhausted.

Prune Fruit Trees—When fruit trees are properly pruned, says Carl Bittner, Penn State extension pomologist, the fruit grower can do the right kind of a job of spraying, thinning and harvesting. The trees to be pruned first are those expected to blossom and bear heavily during the coming season.

Produce High Yield—Dairymen are maintaining a high level of production despite labor shortages, high operating costs, and poor fall pastures for the last two years, reports Herbert Gilmore, Penn State extension dairy specialist.

Good Quality Wanted—Poultrymen realize the need for continuous emphasis on the production of high-quality products in which the consumer will continue to be interested, reminds F. H. Leuschner, Penn State extension poultry specialist.

PTA MEETS TONIGHT
An illustrated talk on "New Trends in Education" will be presented at the January meeting of the Gettysburg Parent Teachers Association this evening at 8 o'clock in the Band Room at the high school building. The speaker will be Prof. Lester O. Johnson of the faculty of Gettysburg College. The program will follow a business meeting.

VFW VALENTINE DANCE FEB. 13

L. V. Staub, Hanover deputy inspector of VFW District 21, paid his official visit at the meeting of the Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954, Veterans of Foreign Wars, on Tuesday evening at the post home, West King St. Mr. Staub inspected the books of the quartermaster and adjutant. He complimented the post on its growth since organization and noted the list of outstanding activities, including the way in which the post participated in civic projects and post sponsored community projects. Mr. Staub added that the local post is not only in good standing in the district but also in the state department.

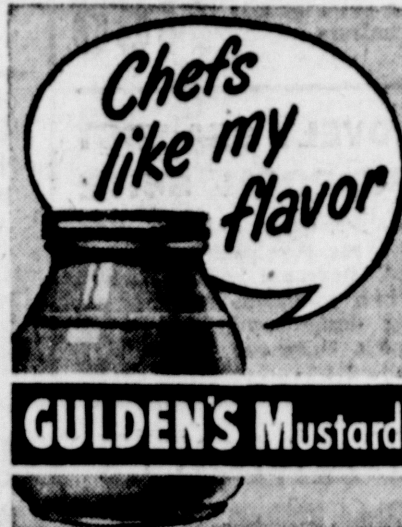

The group then furthered plans for the Valentine dance and party to be held on Friday night, February 13, from 9 until 1 o'clock at Base-hoer's, North Queen St. Maynard McKissick, Harrisburg, and his nine piece orchestra with a vocalist, will provide music. Refreshments will be served. Each member, in good standing, and one guest will be admitted free. Tickets for additional guests are $2.50 per couple. The committee on arrangements for the affair is composed of Kenneth Sparver, Monroe Stately, Burnell Keagy, Francis Kuhn and Fred Blocher. The next regular meeting of the post will be held Tuesday, February 10.

"No Maniac" Says Chief

Since the attempted attack on a young lady in Littlestown on Thursday, January 8, the members of the local police department have followed leads and made on the spot check ups after successive reports, but nothing has been learned to justify recent rumors are true. Chief of Police Melvin H. Swab said today no individual can be blamed for the continued reports of re-appearance of the prowler. Chief Swab also added that "there is nothing to alarm anyone, as there is no maniac roaming the streets after dark."

The American Legion, Ocker Snyder Post No. 321 will hold a shrimp feed for members and their guests on Friday evening at the post home, East King St. Arrangements for the affair are in charge of the house committee, Vernon Study, chairman.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Edwin W. Elder Jr., Rita Marie Ave., were hosts to the Littlestown Cub Pack Committee for a meeting on Tuesday evening. Preliminary plans were made to hold the annual birthday party for the Cubs on Thursday, February 12, in the social hall of Redeemer's Reformed Church. Details for the affair will be announced later. It is requested that the families of the Cubs tell their sons how many expect to attend the dinner party so that the boys can report to the den-mothers at the meeting on Thursday, Feb. 5. It was announced that the Cubs, along with the Boy Scouts

SCREEN YANKS FOR COMMIES ON U. N. STAFF

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United Nations lined up its American employees today for fingerprinting as the first step of a screening process to weed from its staff American Communists or those deemed loyalty risks to the United States.

The fingerprinting began with a few women secretaries late yesterday, shortly after U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. arranged with U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie for the screening machinery. Today the process was to extend to the rest of the 1,681 American citizens on the U. N. payroll.

Can't Take Pictures
Members of the U. N. security force conducted the printing under supervision of a U. S. Civil Service Commission agent. The U. N. refused to permit news photographs of the process.

Next each American will fill out a four-page questionnaire which asks flatly, among other questions, "Are you now or have you ever been a member of the Communist party or any Communist or Fascist organization?"

Employees considered suspicious by the Civil Service Commission will be investigated by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

At the regular meeting of the Cubs this evening at 7 o'clock in the basement of the Littlestown State Bank building, Lt. Col. Elder will speak to the group about army vehicles, in keeping with transportation, the subject of study this month. It is also hoped to show slides in connection with the talk. It has been announced that the boys are to bring their achievement books along to the meeting tonight, as this will be the only time to check them for awards for the party ceremony.

In attendance at the Tuesday meeting were Cubmaster George Hornberger, Denmothers Mrs. Wilson Stair, Mrs. Kathryn Hahn, Mrs. G. Richard Knipple, Mrs. Beavon Hanlon and Lt. Col. and Mrs. Elder.

ROAD REPORTS PROFIT
NEW YORK (AP)—Lehigh Valley Railroad reported net income of $7,205,179 for 1957, a 20 per cent increase over 1956 when earnings reached $5,846,985.

The railroad, whose operating revenue for 1957 was $78,506,708 or nearly a half million dollars less than the previous year, said it lost $108,144 last month.

The higher '57 income reflected a reduction of operating expenses last year compared with 1956.

During the 1957 season, attendance at National League games was down 11.7 per cent from 1956. In the American League it dropped 6.6 per cent.

NO HOUSING SHORTAGE
WASHINGTON (AP)—Rent control has been ended in the Borough of Lemoyne, Cumberland County, Pa. Announcing the immediate end of federal rent curbs in the Pennsylvania borough yesterday, the Office of Rent Stabilization said its decision was reached after local authorities reported the housing shortage there had ended.

NO BRITISH THREAT
DETROIT (AP)—Lord Listowel, a member of the British Parliament, says that England's rapidly increasing steel production and heavy goods volume is no threat to American export markets.

heavy goods volume is no threat to American export markets.

The British MP, in this city for two addresses, contends the world market is large enough for both countries. He says Britain has reached a balance in exports and imports.

Mal Whitfield won the 1952 Olympic 800 meters championship at Helsinki in record time of 1:49.2 which is the identical time he made when he won the Olympic title at London in 1948.

Worry of FALSE TEETH
Slipping or Irritating?
Don't be embarrassed by loose false teeth slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little FASTEREIN on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a remarkable sense of added comfort and security by holding plates more firmly. No gummy, gooey, party taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Get FASTEREIN at any drug store.
